Germans Fail To Halt Progress Of Soviet Tidal Wave

Huge Red Army Drives Steadily Forward Toward Borders Of Germany

FRANTIC COUNTER ATTACKS REPULSED

By NATALIA RENE

MOSCOW, July 6.—The German high command, appalled at the relentless Red army advance in White Russia, attempted to stem the Soviet drive today by launching frantic counterattacks against Russian legions bearing down upon the vital Wilno-Warsaw railroad and the very borders of Germany.

The counter-thrusts were of little avail.

Steady Soviet Drive

Izvestia, official Soviet government newspaper, said the Nazis launched counterattacks with infantry, armored and aerial forces against the advanced Red army positions near Baranovich. The steady Soviet drive toward this key railroad junction had already pushed to the city's outer approaches, threatening the Nazis with imminent loss of that town which is on a direct rail line to Warsaw.

"Well west of Molodechno, the enemy is resisting and trying to launch counterattacks," Izvestia added.

Molodechno fell to the forward-driving Cossack cavalrymen and Soviet armored columns as they drove to a point less than 45 miles south-east of the Wilno communications center.

In the far north, the army newspaper Red Star said, Russian forces advanced another 10 miles on the Karelian front.

Wall of Dust
One frontline correspondent described a wall of dust moving westward along the Wilno highway as the Russian tanks and long-range guns kept on in hot pursuit of the enemy while driving toward the Baltic.

Purchase of federal use stamps took quite a spirit following announcement that revenue agents had been checking cars in this locality which were being operated without them.

Lawns which until recently looked nice and green have taken on a very burned out appearance as a result of the continued hot and dry weather of the past ten days or so.

Climbing around to near the top of the First Christian church spire on the public square as being done by a steepclimb at the present time would probably be one way of getting a cool breeze.

End of the fifth war loan campaign draws near. You had better hurry and purchase that extra bond. Every purchase that can possibly be made is needed to put the drive over the quota.

RUSSIAN DRIVE HURLS BACK NAZIS

Now only 100 miles from Germany, the Russians continue to drive forward all along the 300-mile central German front with Polish, last German stronghold in White Russia, now in Red hands. Advance units of Gen. Ivan Bagration's First Baltic Army captured the railway station of Konstantinov, pointing a spearhead toward Wilno (Vilna), Poland's sixth largest city. A Nazi news agency dispatch said that the Germans had evacuated the rail center at Kowel, pre-war Poland, 75 miles from Brest-Litovsk.

Abandon Hope For Sixty-Four Miners In Ohio

Fire Traps Coal Miners In Powhatan Mine Near Bellaire, Ohio

BELLEIRE, O., July 6.—(INS)—All hope of rescuing 64 miners entombed in the Powhatan mine, 14 miles south of Bellaire, vanished today and at 6:30 a. m. State Director of Industrial Relations George T. Strain ordered the mine sealed.

Strain, at the scene of the disaster, acted on reports from state mine inspectors who have aided Belmont county officials in directing rescue efforts since a fire broke out in the mine shortly after noon yesterday.

Mine officials did not immediately release names of the victims. One mine spokesman said bodies of the trapped miners probably would not be removed for at least three months.

The fire broke out shortly after noon yesterday when a 100-foot section of roofing collapsed in No. 3 entry to the mine, Ohio's largest soft coal pit.

Need $700,000 In Bond Sales To Pass Quota

Bringing the grand total of bonds sold in the fifth war loan campaign, the total announced today in the Greater New Castle Association offices is $6,305,725.75, over $700,000 under the quota of $7,010,000 for Lawrence County and two days from the official close of the campaign, Saturday July 8.

Only one area in the six in Lawrence County is over quota and that is Ellwood City with a total sale of $2,333,705.25. Other areas follow: New Castle, $3,675,812.50; Wampum, $2,456.25; Bessemer, $138,424.50; New Wilmington, $99,751.25 and Volant $25,516.

Extra pressure is on in the closing days of the campaign and if the quota is not reached, it is probable the campaign will be extended through the month of July, Chairman W. Walter Braham said.

Gen. De Gaulle Due To Arrive In Washington

Problems To Be Discussed With French Leader Are Indicated

By LEON PEARSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 6.—State department officials disclosed today the principal problems which have been listed for discussion with Gen. Charles De Gaulle, head of the French national committee, who is due in Washington today for a four-day visit.

It was generally admitted that the attitude toward De Gaulle, both in the White House and the state department, has grown more cordial in the last few days, especially since his glowing tribute to "the brave boys of the United States" who are giving their blood for the liberation of France.

Previously, De Gaulle had given offense in Washington by failing to acknowledge the British and American contribution, and claiming undue credit for the French effort.

The problems to be discussed were listed as follows:

1. Installing local officials in liberated French towns and cities.
2. Use of the new "invasion currency," which was printed in Washington for use in France.
3. Supply of food, clothing, and rehabilitation materials for liberated areas.

Meanwhile, war experts in the capital, say complete capture of Saipan, now imminent, will pave the way for new invasion moves.

It is disclosed that WPB Chairman Donald Nelson, now convalescing from a seizure of pneumonia, faces another stiff fight to force through his decision to allow gradual resumption of American industry as military conditions permit.

Opposing Nelson's plans are military officials, but business interests and groups within WPB which favors delaying return to civilian pursuits until all manufacturers in each industry have ended their war work and are ready to resume production.

From police and FBI officials comes a bitter protest over the continued refusal of war manpower chief Paul McNutt to make U. S. employment service files available to law enforcement officials. Those officials are handicapped by the denial of uses information on the whereabouts and background of suspects.

On the political front, Sen. Jackson D. Ind., permanent chairman of the forthcoming Democratic national convention, predicts Indiana will be a Roosevelt state even if Wendell Willkie throws his support behind the GOP ticket.

Yanks Battling Way Forward In La Haye Assault

Make Progress On Cherbourg Peninsula Despite Heavy Nazi Resistance

FIGHTING ALSO RAGES AT CAEN

(BULLETIN)

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, July 6.—(INS)—Capture of three more villages by American troops advancing slowly against strong enemy resistance on the Cherbourg peninsula was disclosed at Allied headquarters today.

There is no sign of a large-scale German withdrawal or surrender, headquarters emphasized.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, July 6.—Battling forward against German defense forces contesting every assault troops moved steadily southward today over a 17-mile front across the neck of the Cherbourg peninsula in a persistent drive to force capitulation of the communications center of La Haye Du Puits.

The Americans under command of Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley extended their front in a continuous drive from Carantun westward to La Haye.

Eastward, on the British-Canadian battle sector, extremely violent battle action was in progress, with the Germans counter-attacking fiercely to delay the fall of the vital rail and road hub of Caen, 115 miles from Paris.

After confirming that the Americans had taken the railroad station of La Haye, headquarters said the Yanks were pushing on the southward despite the fact that the Nazis were contesting every foot of ground.

Nearing Gligny
Gen. Bradley's forces reached a point on one sector north of Gligny, one and a half miles from the west coast of the peninsula. The town of Gligny was still in enemy hands, however.

Getting Closer

Stepping up their offensives against the strategic bases circling the Japanese homeland, U. S. Pacific forces struck a heavy blow at the Jap bases of Iwo Jima and Haha Jima, in the Bonin islands, only 550 nautical miles from Japan.

Meanwhile, the Saipan ground drive continued, with the Yanks capturing Garapan, the capital of the island, and the Tanapag harbor naval base. In the Bonin assault, a U. S. carrier task force sank or left beached five Jap ships and destroyed 49 enemy planes.

Estimate 2,300 U. S. Planes In Raids On Nazis

By JOSEPH THOMAS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, July 6.—An estimated 2,300 American bombers and fighters, including at least 1,000 four-engine heavy bombers, blasted Nazi robot bomb emplacements in western France and other targets in that land and Germany by daylight today.

In addition to the heavy bombers, 1,000 fighters and more than 300 Marauder and Havoc bombers struck at the enemy during the early hours of the day. The Marauder-Havoc force carried out one of the heaviest operations of its type since D-day when it pounded five main line railroads extending into the French battle area from the south.

Hit Installations
Escorted by Mustangs, Thunderbolts and Lightnings, the big Fortresses and Liberators roared over the Pas de Calais area to hit at "military" installations including flying bomb launching platforms, enemy-held airfields in France and unidentified objectives in northwest Germany rounded out the targets of the heavy raiders.

The Kiel area of Germany was attacked by American bombers this morning, the German home radio chain said in a broadcast heard in New York by CBS.

Other formations of fighters dove-bombed and strafed two other targets, an official statement revealed.

During the night, British bombers also lashed at enemy Europe, including the V-1 bomb emplacements.

JAP REPORT SAYS GUAM SHELLED

NEW YORK, July 6.—(INS)—United States warships shelled the Jap-held island of Guam and the island of Tinian in the Marianas group while two other islands were attacked by aircraft, the Japanese reported today.

The shelling and aerial assaults according to a Domei agency report heard by the PCC, took place yesterday.

The islands hit from the air were Rota and Pagan.

Domei said that cruisers had bombarded Tinian and that Guam also was hit by "approximately 120 enemy planes."

Rota was hit by 20 to 30 planes and Pagan by two waves of 20 planes.

The island of Palau also was raided yesterday by some 30 planes, Domei said.

As the American campaign reached a climax, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz told a news conference that while the Saipan landing has proved tougher than anticipated, the battle is in its final phases and American leaders have every hope of a complete victory.

"We do not feel the slightest pessimism regarding the future and we are approaching it with every confidence," Nimitz declared.

Gen. MacArthur Is Steadily Advancing Toward Philippines

By CAPT. JOHN H. CRAIG
(Written Especially for U.S. News)

While great and decisive battles rage in France, Italy, Russia, China and on the central Pacific island of Saipan in this decisive year of the world's armageddon-war, General Douglas MacArthur has swung his amphibious forces for another spectacular 100-mile leap-frogging operation from Biak for the capture of Noemfoor Island and the accomplishment of another long step on his promised triumphant return journey to the Philippines. He was more than 2000 miles from his objective when he began his advance two years ago. Now the nearest of the Philippines is about 700 miles away.

Airport Target

Immediate target of the Noemfoor operation was the capture of the two-mile square airport of Kamiri, best Japanese air base within 500 miles. The amphibious stroke was accomplished with the exquisite skill the public has come to expect of MacArthur's operations and the port and air field were taken with "practically no" losses. The plans for the capture of the new American (Continued on Page Two)

Japs Preparing For Final Stand On Saipan Island

Reported Massing By Thousands In Northern Tip Mountain Passes

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD A JOINT EXPEDITIONARY FLAGSHIP OFF SAIPAN ISLAND, July 6.—(East longitude time)—Via Navy radio—The Japs' final defense of Saipan Island became a frenzied block of bodies today with the Japs massing by the thousands in north tip mountain passes to stave off defeat as long as possible.

The Japs, resigned to death and defeat, lay body to body in caves and pillboxes for a final frantic gesture against American forces they know they can't halt.

Advancing slower
The advancing Americans were slowed by thicker Jap defenses.

The Japs made their last possible Saipan withdrawal from the Tanapag Harbor naval base area several days ago and they made it carefully.

Admiral Nimitz Says Landing Has Proved Tougher Than Anticipated

LOSSES INDICATE BATTLE IS TOUGH

By RICHARD V. HALLER
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, July 6.—Frenzied Jap defenders of Saipan were massed today for a last ditch stand in the mountain passes and rocky caves at the narrow northern end of the island.

The Japs have been pushed back into a relatively small area by the triumphant but costly advance of American Marines and army infantry and an unestimated number of defenders are crowded with their backs to the sea on Marpi point.

Tougher Than Anticipated
As the American campaign reached a climax, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz told a news conference that while the Saipan landing has proved tougher than anticipated, the battle is in its final phases and American leaders have every hope of a complete victory.

Resistance Of Noemfoor Japs Being Crushed

By GEORGE LAIT
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, July 6.—(INS)—An American invasion force, with two of Noemfoor's three air-dromes already in their hands, continued to crush Japanese resistance on the Dutch New Guinea Isle today with strong tank, naval and air support.

Capture of Koromoren airfield, three miles northeast of the previously-occupied Kamiri drome, was announced in this morning's communiqué by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Fourth Of July Victory

The U. S. infantrymen and paratroopers seized Koromoren at 3 p. m. on Tuesday, thus clinching a Fourth of July victory. Kamiri had been taken within two hours after the first Yanks landed on the island Sunday in a surprise amphibious landing.

Churchill Tells Of Damage Done By Robot Bombs

Reports 2,752 Fatalities To Date Caused By Robot Bomb Attacks

LONDON TARGET FOR MOST BOMBS

(International News Service)

With utmost frankness, Prime Minister Winston Churchill tore the veil from one of the war's most closely guarded secrets today by confirming that London—and not some vaguely defined area of "southern England"—has been the target of recent attacks by Adolf Hitler's robot bombs.

Launched as a reprisal for the Allied invasion of Europe, and only after a long period of American and British air force destruction had necessitated vast new Nazi measures of reconstruction, the winged bomb has taken a heavy toll of life and limb, the prime minister said—but far less than in the worst days of the "blitz" of 1940 that London suffered and survived.

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, July 6.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill disclosed today that a large percentage of the German robot bombs sent against England had crashed down upon London and that the novel Nazi weapon to date had caused at least 2,752 fatalities.

Churchill revealed that children already were being sent away from the British capital and declared that unessential workers in London had been urged to leave the city too.

Many London Casualties
Churchill, speaking to a packed house of commons, said that a very high proportion of the casualties caused by the exploding of pilotless craft were suffered in London. These casualties included at least 10,000 severely injured.

The prime minister declared that it would be "a mistake" to underestimate the serious character of the robot bomb attacks.

La Haye Is Now Being By-Passed

By WILLIAM STRINGER
Reuters Special Correspondent
(Distributed by U. S. S.)

WITH ADVANCED U. S. INFANTRY FORCES Normandy, July 5.—American troops withdrew from La Haye du Puits today after bitter German resistance, and began to bypass the town.

This second withdrawal from the town within the last 24 hours was made after a tank-supported German counter-attack west of La Haye and strong resistance within the town.

The first withdrawal was made late yesterday, but the doughboys re-entered the highway last night and took the rail station.

In by-passing La Haye the column moving on the city's west flank is now about one mile southwest of the city. Another spearhead is driving from the east in the forest De Mont Caste.

German resistance to the American offensive all along the front is reported strong and stiffening. Two counter-attacks were made southwest of Carcassonne late yesterday and several supported by tanks, were made last night, but the Yanks repulsed them all.

Strategic foothold proceeded along the lines that General MacArthur has rendered a classic in the war of the Pacific. For several days all Japanese air fields and bases within a 500-mile radius were plastered with high explosives by American bombers and with shells from the naval guns of Vice Admiral Thomas Kinkaid's fleet. Most important Japanese bases in the area are at Babo and Manokwari. Apparently the Japanese high command expected a thrust at one or the other of these objectives.

Selects Objective

But with his usual facility for outthinking his opponents, the American general sidestepped the necessity for overcoming heavy resistance and instead, selected for his objective Noemfoor, from which the troops had apparently been withdrawn to strengthen the garrisons of other positions which the Japanese military chiefs considered more likely to be attacked.

By his latest stroke, General MacArthur has once again displayed his astonishing ability at outguessing his opponent. Since his arrival in Australia in the dark days of June 1942 following the disaster of Pearl Harbor and the loss of the Philippines, he has consistently beaten large Japanese forces with small ones of his own, advancing approximately 1500 miles.

Probably the most remarkable feature of General MacArthur's campaign, which is destined to provide a model for students of war in the future, is that in his 1500-mile advance his forces have never been obliged to fight a single large-scale battle with heavy casualties. Brain work, not force, has done the job.

By the occupation of strategic spots on the map, MacArthur has cut off and doomed to hopeless defeat Japanese forces estimated as totalling more than 300,000 men, probably many times the entire number of his own troops.

Two hospitals were wrecked in the evening hours, one receiving a direct hit. It was feared that heavy casualties were suffered among the patients and staff.

Nurses, among them some who were injured, policemen in shirt sleeves, soldiers and members of the home guard, crawled through debris to bring out victims, many of them babies.

American troops were rushed to the scene in jeeps to take part as stretcher bearers.

The maternity ward of one hospital was almost demolished. Victims included expectant mothers and new-born babies.

The body of Gilbert L. Dodds, who died in Los Angeles, Calif., June 30, will arrive here late Friday evening and will be taken to the Howard L. Reynolds funeral home, Adams street, where friends may call Saturday evening, 7 to 9 o'clock.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2:30 o'clock from the funeral home, Rev. Homer B. Davis in charge. Interment will be in Graceland cemetery.

William Robert Jones

William Robert Jones, aged 86 years, of 334 East North street, died Wednesday at 9:20 p. m. from infirmities of old age.

Mr. Jones was born in New Castle August 25, 1857, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones. He lived here and for over 50 years was employed by the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation.

The deceased was a life member of the Malmong lodge, No. 243, F. & A. M. Lawrence Commandery, No. 62, Knights Templar, and the Delta Royal Arts chapter, No. 170. His wife preceded him in death.

A son, Dr. William Robert Jones, survives.

Funeral services will be Friday at 2:30 p. m. from the R. L. Boyd funeral home, North Jefferson street, Dr. D. L. Ferguson, of the Highland U. P. church, in charge.

Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery. Friends will be received at the funeral home this evening, seven to nine o'clock.

said, German tanks were trapped by an ironic twist of fate. While attempting to flee across country, the Nazi armor got caught in an anti-tank trap formed by tombstones in a Jewish cemetery.

As the Soviet forces drive through the White Russian villages, the men and women emerge dressed in their national costumes which they have kept carefully hidden for three years to celebrate the expulsion of the Germans, one report said.

Nazi Death Agony

German forces encircled east of Minsk, meanwhile, were experiencing a "death agony," according to a front-line correspondent. Huge forces of Soviet artillery and aircraft, he said, pour a steady hail of shells and bombs in a battle to clear the last remaining Nazis from that area.

Red Star said that at one point in a forest, the fighting died down only "after real butchery" took place. Thousands of German troops lay dead among the trees, and hundreds of others were marched off to prison camps.

Berlin admitted that the Russian juggernaut were even closer to the main rail, road and industrial city of Wilno. According to the London News Chronicle, the Germans said one Soviet spearhead is only 25 miles northeast of the city, thus indicating a Red army pincer may be forming about the gateway to Lithuania.

Red Tidal Wave

The Russian tidal wave bearing down upon the strategic Wilno-Warsaw railroad continued to inundate White Russian towns and villages, liberating more than 300 additional communities Wednesday, including Smorgon, 45 miles southeast of Wilno. Enroute to Smorgon the Soviets also captured the district center of Molodechno, 22 miles to the southeast.

Molodechno, at the intersection of the Minsk-Wilno and Plozsk-Warsaw railroads, was taken after fierce street fighting.

If the drive for Smorgon, Soviet mobile columns forced the Vilna river and smashed a frantic German attempt to effect a stand on the banks of that stream.

On the Finnish front, Russian forces broke the enemy defense line along the Telenoki river and occupied Salmi, on the shore of Lake Ladoga. Near Paloyarvi, a Finn battalion was surrounded and the Soviets were reported "waging actions for its annihilation."

be in progress in the immediate area west of the La Haye railway stations.

The Americans took Montgardon in an outflanking move to the west of La Haye.

Headquarters said that the Germans were imbedded in strong positions and resolutely opposing the American advance in the forest of Montcastré. Nevertheless, the Yanks managed to get a foothold on the northern edge of the Montcastré feature.

The Americans also made advances on a mile and slightly over a mile west and southwest of Carcassonne.

The attack through the swamp imposes a new threat on a widening flank to the German forces believed to consist of the 17th "S S" elite panzer grenadiers having some tanks.

Battle At Carpiquet

Headquarters said that Allied positions in the town of Carpiquet, adjacent to threatened Caen, had been held despite furious counter-attacks by the Germans.

The German reaction to the Canadian advance in the region of Carpiquet has been "exceptionally violent."

The Canadian positions in and around Carpiquet were retained although the Carpiquet airfield now is believed in German hands after extremely fierce fighting.

Although German elements have infiltrated into the Carpiquet and on sub-sector and it is certain that the Canadians are heavily engaged, as far as is known the Canadians have not made any withdrawal.

It was emphasized, however that Montcastré, as well as a five-mile corridor through the flooded peninsula area must be secured by the Yanks.

In order to force the fall of La Haye when that happens the Germans must either withdraw or battle the Americans to the end.

Headquarters said that 4,500 aerial sorties were flown against the Nazis yesterday, with at least 35 German aircraft shot down in the battlefront areas and more destroyed on the ground. Fifteen Allied planes were also missing.

Today's weather over the battle area consisted of broken cloud at 4,000 feet, but indications were that the weather still was unsettled.

hit pillboxes, trenches and block-houses the Japs had built on the beach they worried most about, for it was one of the few Saipan beaches the reefs failed to protect.

Americans with reef climbing landing barges made an amphibious attack six miles away and the Japs are getting first use of their fortifications now, three weeks after D day.

These fortifications forced the army to slow down as every pillbox had to be worked over with tanks and flame throwers, a slow dangerous business.

Stand To Death

The same kind of work has been underway all along the line through densely wooded hills where the Japs are using caves and rocks as pillboxes and where they make a stand to death.

The Americans are alert to possible counter attack nightly, such as a mad Banzai charge which would up the Attu campaign a year ago but so far there have been only a few isolated instances of Jap night attacks.

Last night four Japs were killed and a few others chased away after flinging themselves against marine lines.

The Japanese are believed massing at strategic points on ridges near the present American lines and near the Marpi Point airfield, which the Japs had been preparing until a few days ago.

Send Token Aid

The Jap empire still is sending token aid to its Saipan garrison in the form of occasional night raids. So far these attacks have been futile.

American army and navy airmen are doing a good neutralizing job of surrounding Jap bases. The Tinian airfield, within sight of Saipan, is done for.

Army and marine infantrymen, who have taken the heaviest losses of any Pacific campaign, are doing their part, battling through swamps and through towns to give America its first conquest of a vital part of Japan's south sea economic, military and political empire.

Sniped Opposition

While the Americans were occupying Kororuaen airfield in the face of mostly sniper opposition, U. S. Sixth Army infantrymen on the Dutch New Guinea mainland to the east smashed at the approaches to the Savar airfield in the Sauri area.

Meanwhile, Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney's allies again bombed Sorong, at the extreme western tip of New Guinea. American bombers also continued to pound the Jap Caroline Island bases at Yap, Palau and Woleai; and the New Britain base of Rabaul. One U. S. plane was lost in this assault.

Sgt. Headland Listed As Killed

New Castle Soldier Had Been Missing In Action Since January 26 In Italy

Word was received late Wednesday by Mrs. Marjorie Hildebrand Headland, wife of Sgt. Charles Bruce Headland of 1101 Delaware avenue, announcing that Sergeant Headland, who had been missing in action in Italy as of January 26, has been listed as killed in action.

The telegram from the War department announcing his death was received by Sergeant Headland's father, Rev. C. C. Headland of Eau Claire, Butler county, while Rev. Headland was attending a religious school in West Virginia, and he immediately returned to his home here. Sergeant Headland's wife left for the home of her husband's parents on receipt of the word.

The telegram stated that a letter giving further details will follow.

Mrs. Headland has received word from Sergeant Headland's commanding officer and his comrades, stating that he died under heroic circumstances.

He was born September 1, 1920, at Pitsburgh, Pa., the family later moved to New Castle, where his father was employed for a number of years as auditor by the Lawrence Savings and Trust company. He was inducted into service on September 21, 1942, and assigned to a chemical warfare battalion, and was overseas several months before he was killed.

He is survived by his wife and his parents.

SAIPAN BATTLE IN FINAL PHASE

ment of previously stated objectives on the coast of China, the fighting commander of Pacific ocean areas said.

We intend to utilize Saipan, and any other places we take, to inflict the maximum possible damage on the enemy.

"Rest assured we will continue to apply the pressure against the Japanese continuously and unremittingly at every point."

First of Kind

Nimitz explained that Saipan is the first large land mass objective with volcanic elevations which American amphibious forces have attempted to capture.

Saipan is unique, Bougainville, he pointed out, where beachheads were against opposition no tougher than expected.

"What we learn at Saipan," he added, "will be helpful at other places."

The Japanese fleet and air power Nimitz declared, still are obstacles which must be taken into consideration.

Tough Battle

Comparing the severe ground personnel losses on Saipan with casualties of the Normandy invasion forces, the Admiral declared the high rate on the Marianas invasion forces, the Admiral declared the high rate on the Marianas Island "indicates the toughness of the Saipan battle."

Asked if the Japanese land offensive in China will retard our approach from the east, Nimitz asserted.

"I don't think so. We are moving west as rapidly as we can and nothing will make us wait except distance and the availability of things needed."

The admiral included in his discussion a few opinions on the relative value of various kinds of power in the war.

Air power will have an important bearing on the future of the war, he said, but other weapons, such as submarines, also will play decisive roles.

Agencies Commended For Tornado Relief

HARRISBURG, July 6.—(INS)—Letters of commendation were sent to seven agencies and state departments by Gov. Edward Martin today expressing gratitude for their aid to persons in the tornado devastated area of western Pennsylvania.

The chief executive also praised the work of volunteer firemen and local authorities.

"I wish to convey my commendation to the members of your organization who participated in any way in the disaster work," he stated. "My personal visit to all the stricken areas and the many reports which came to me indicate that all state disaster agencies responded instantly to the call for help."

1943," he said, "we received vague reports that the Germans were developing a new long-range weapon with which they proposed to bombard London."

Churchill said that the government did not under-rate the Nazi menace and was upset at what has happened.

Up until 6 a. m. today, he said, a total of 2,754 flying bombs have been discharged by German launching stations along the French coast.

Many Shot Down

A very large proportion of these, he said, either failed to cross the channel or have been shot down.

The house will be favorably surprised to learn that actually about one person was killed for one bomb," Churchill said in pointing out that there were 2,752 fatalities for the 2,754 bombs launched.

Churchill explained that through secret agents and by air reconnaissance work the British had succeeded by July 4 of 1943 in locating German launching stations on the Baltic coast of Germany, the main experimental stations connected with flying bomb production and the perfection of long-range rockets.

Last August, he said, the full strength of the British bomber command was sent to attack these installations. The raids were costly but very effective damage was done to the Germans and a number of key German scientists, including the head scientist, who were dwelling together in a so-called "strength through joy establishment" were killed.

Delayed For Months

The British said the prime minister said, delayed for many months German plans to bring into action both the flying bombs and long-range rockets.

"If it had not been for our bombing operations in France and Germany," the bombardment of London no doubt would have started perhaps six months earlier on a very much heavier scale.

"Under pressure of our counter-measures the enemy has developed a new series of pre-fabricated structures which could be rapidly assembled and well camouflaged, especially during periods of cloudy weather."

"It is from these comparatively light and very rapidly erected structures that the present attack is being made."

"The untiring, relentless efforts of British and American air forces,"

ABANDON HOPE FOR SIXTY-FOUR MINERS IN OHIO

The fire rapidly spread to the No. 2 entry. By midnight last night, however, volunteer firemen under the direction of State Mine Chief Marcus Kerr had succeeded in extinguishing the blaze in the No. 3 entry. Fire in the No. 2 entry continued to rage yet today.

At late as 2 a. m. today rescue crews had high hopes of freeing the trapped miners by means of tunneling around the fire. However, even this means failed, mine officials said.

One of the dramatic highlights of the rescue efforts was an attempt by George Emery, 45, a foreman, who entered the mine shortly after the fire broke out. He telephoned the mine superintendent's office, saying:

"I am going in and short circuit the air and brattice the men in."

Emery was trapped in a similar disaster at Powhatan two years ago in which two miners lost their lives. He was one of 78 men rescued. Since then he had studied methods of combating mine fires, fellow workmen said.

Emery entered the shaft about 1 p. m. yesterday and no word has been heard from him since.

Allied Bombing Crippled The Luftwaffe

Germany's failure to throw any appreciable amount of air power into the first stages of the battle for the Normandy beachhead has naturally aroused a question as to the present status of the once-mighty Luftwaffe. General Arnold's concise report on his recent visit to the invasion front presents a fairly comprehensive answer.

Hitler's air force has been so crippled by our strategic bombing that it may never, according to Arnold, be able to fight effectively again. This bombing has achieved two astounding results: German aircraft production has been cut to one-third of the planned output and German fuel supply has been reduced to an estimated 30 per cent of normal.

It stands to reason that Hitler would have struck at the invasion forces in the air if he had been able. He had a rich target that General Arnold describes as "an aviator's dream."

It was conjectured by some that he was holding back his air power for a decisive counter-stroke to drive the Allied troops into the sea, or for a blow in force at England, or for counter-offensive work on the eastern front. The answer appears to be simpler than that. He did not have sufficient air power to fight off the invasion forces.

It is a satisfying thought that sooner or later the deadly weight of strategic bombing, so effective in Germany, will be felt also in Japan. Except for the Doolittle raid and the recent attack by the Superfortresses, the Jap homeland and its war industries have been free from the blasts of Allied bombs. But the bombs are on their way.

Superfortresses and other long-range craft will soon be able to subject Japan to concentrated and continuous battering from the air. Because its industries are crowded so closely together, Japan's aircraft and other war production can be knocked out much more easily than Germany's. We have seen what strategic bombing has done to the Luftwaffe. Tojo's air force is next.

Carelessness Worse Than Fire

Ships, men and planes who live to fight another day can often thank the behind-the-scenes work of civilian fire prevention engineers for their second chance. These engineers, loaned by the fire insurance industry to the government, have given effective help in teaching methods of fighting airplane crash fires. They have also cooperated with the Navy and the Coast Guard in fighting fire on shipboard. However, these are but highlights of the far flung activities of the fire prevention engineers.

Since September, 1940, when the first $1-a-year contract for fire prevention engineering service was signed with the War department, advisory fire protection engineers have been assigned to 665 War department projects and have rendered 2,250 reports. For more than a year engineers have been making complete fire protection surveys on the more important War department establishments, posts, stations, hospitals and depots.

When the war is over, the fire prevention engineers now lending their talents to the government will be back in offices, laboratories, and in the field, carrying on the ceaseless battle against fire. They will undoubtedly bring with them new devices, learned from the war, that will make homes and factories, places of amusement, and every other man-made structure a little safer from fire.

With modern scientific methods of preventing fires, the annual fire loss for the nation should be drastically reduced. Nine fires out of ten are brought about by carelessness. Carelessness is almost worse than fire itself from the standpoint of the engineer. He has learned how to combat fire, but public carelessness baffles him.

House Of Representatives Control

With the election of a Republican congressman in New York recently to take the place of a Democrat it was announced that while the majority of the Democrats in the National House of Representatives had been whittled down by one more vote, the Democrats retain control of the House with the following alignment: Democrats, 216; Republicans, 211; Progressives, 2; Farmer-Labor, 1; American Labor, 1; vacant, 4.

Someone, reading these figures writes in to say that he does not understand them, inasmuch as the administration apparently lost control of the House after the 1942 election so far as the voting on many New Deal measures is concerned.

All of which points to the fact that official control of the House or Senate is not predicted on legislative, or factional, but on party machine control. This is to be distinguished from control of the body for legislative programs. When we say that the Democrats maintain control of the House with 216 members, this means that the Democratic party has control of the machinery, which includes the Speakership and the all-important chairmanships of the various committees.

No matter how the members of a particular party feel about one another when it comes to organizing the House, selecting the Speaker and the other officers, it is the rule that Democrats and Republicans line up in a solid party phalanx. Putting through legislation is something else again. Here one faction of the Democrats may combine with the Republicans to block a certain measure, or vice versa.

When we say therefore that the Democrats retain control of the House we mean the House organization and not House legislation. The Democrats as a party have control of the machinery, which is something different than saying the New Dealers can put over what legislation they desire. This was the case only in the early days of the New Deal.

For example the Democrats got control of the House in 1930 and have held this control ever since. In 1937 there were 331 Democrats in the House and only 89 Republicans. In 1942 there were 222 Democrats and 269 Republicans. Now there are 216 Democrats and 211 Republicans.

From this steady rise in Republican strength many commentators are expressing a belief that the Republicans will control the House after the November election no matter who is elected President. This, however, does not follow. If, for instance, President Roosevelt is re-elected, very likely he will sweep enough Democrats into power in Congress to control the House. If a Republican wins the G.O.P., will, of course, organize it.

Tojo asked for it. His peace terms demanded that the U. S. fleet be sent to Japan.

Formerly wars were given high-sounding names such as the War of the Roses. Modern war doesn't carry that kind of aroma.

Germans in firing rocket bombs across the channel, have adopted the attitude of the man who kicks the dog when things in general go wrong.

A current article on television says that this new invention will bring the next war right into your living room. Mr. Henpeck says they already have it in his living room at home—nearly every night.

Washington Calling

By MARQUIS CHILDS

Vice President Issue

CHICAGO July 6—Now that the last Republican delegate has been dug out of the Stevens hotel and sent on his way home, the stage is being set for the Democratic convention to be held here beginning July 19.

This second "draft" promises in many ways to be more stereotyped than the one which produced Governor Dewey out of a slightly transparent hat. There is a strong possibility, as has been previously suggested in this column, that President Roosevelt will declare his willingness to submit to the "draft" of a large majority of the delegates already pledged to the fourth term before the Democrats assemble in Chicago.

While the ratification of Roosevelt for first place on the ticket will be a formality, contentious Democrats promise to produce fireworks that will make the next big political rally far from the dull affair just ended. Professional trouble-makers will be on hand to see to it that all is not harmony as, on the surface at least, it was with the Republicans.

May Be Major Quarrel

Take the little matter of the Vice-presidential nomination, for example. Here the Democrats are likely to run into a major quarrel.

If he follows the schedule drawn up for him before he left, Vice-President Wallace will return to this country from his far eastern trip on July 11 or 12. His port of entry, according to the schedule is to be Seattle.

There, not long after his arrival he plans to give a major address on a nationwide radio hook-up dealing with his tour. In that talk he will stress the great future of the states on the Pacific slope, particularly in the development of vast new trade, by air and by sea, with a revitalized China and with the new industrialized Siberia that Wallace has been allowed to see as a guest of the Soviet Union.

This will be Wallace's dramatic bid for renomination as vice-president. It is possible, too, that he may make one or more diplomatic trips to announce at the same time.

The opposition to the shy, gangling Iowan within his own party is of course, tremendous. Conservative Democrats in the South look on him as the epitome of all that is wrong and radical. Conceivably they may call off their carefully staged southern "revolt" if Wallace were thrown to the wolves.

Oppose Wallace
New Dealers such as Attorney General Francis Biddle and his good friend "Tommy the Cork" Corcoran also are opposed to Wallace. They are saying that, if anything happened to the president and Wallace were to succeed him, the same thing would happen as happened to Andrew Johnson when he stepped into Abraham Lincoln's big shoes. Congress would destroy him as it destroyed poor Andy Johnson.

Regarding themselves as practical politicians, these New Dealers reflect the views of the party bosses such as Hague of New Jersey and Flynn of the Bronx. They swallowed Wallace in 1940, but this time it will have to be a case of forcible feeding if the president insists.

Robert Hannegan, Democratic National chairman by Roosevelt's wish, is reported to have told the President that it would be next to impossible to get enough votes to put Wallace over even if the White House were publicly to express preference. A regular Democrat himself, Hannegan is said to share the boss' feeling against Wallace, the intellectual and the man of vision.

On the other hand, the vice-president has the support of the CIO and liberal elements in the party, as well as some appeal to independent voters with liberal tendencies. He has made a good showing in the public opinion polls.

Besides the vice-presidential issue, there is the color question. The Texas delegation, as carefully engineered by Shrewd Houston lawyers, is coming to Chicago to make trouble on this and other problems. A rival rump delegation, which will probably get the official okay of the credentials committee, is also coming to Chicago.

All in all, the meeting of the Democrats should produce more sensational headlines than came out of the Republican convention. That is the hope of those who intend to block the fourth term even if it should mean disruption of the Democratic party or even, for that matter, nullification of this country's position in the world.

The Platform Assault

WASHINGTON, July 6. THE LARGE and varied literary brigade for the fourth-term forces, which for a few days after the Republican convention appeared to have no clear sense of direction, seems now—temporarily, at least—to have settled upon the character of its attack. From the papers, writers and publicity outfits dedicated to keeping Mr. Roosevelt in the White House and, for years, one gathers that the assault will be largely along two lines.

FIRST, there is the platform. This, they say, is "terrible." It is declared to be full of contradictions and inconsistencies; to open the door for inflation; to revive isolationism; to mislead the farmer; to trend toward chaos; to talk two ways about the tariff, etc., etc. Of course the platform isn't anything like that bad. It is, in fact, a masterpiece of compromise and compromise. But the idea is that by attacking the platform at this time, the general impression can be made upon a large number of voters, who do not know—and never will know—what really is in the platform, that it is pretty awful. Effectively to further an idea like that, naturally, certain facts have to be ignored.

IN THIS case, however, so many facts would have to be shoved aside that the exaggerated and partisan would seem apparent to almost anyone capable of reasoning and reading. There is, first, the fact that no one contended the platform was perfect. Governor Dewey very frankly admitted that it contained a number of inconsistencies, pointing out that these are inevitable in any unheated convention where the platform is drafted by a score of men and not dictated by one. Under such circumstances it is the interpretation of the platform by the candidate that counts, not the verbiage of the platform itself. The platform is what the candidate says it is.

THIS well-known fact is brushed aside by the fourth termers, but even more brazenly they ignore the fact that Governor Dewey already has interpreted the two main platform plank—the tariff plank and the plank and the tariff plank. In his acceptance speech he declared his conviction that the foreign-policy plank was based on the Mackinac declaration which was in accord with his own New York speech last April. Both these were as far away from isolationism as either Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Wendell have been, and eminently satisfactory to the international cooperationists. By thus clarifying the foreign-policy

Water Safety Instructors' Course To Open

Red Cross 30-Hour Course Open
To Skilled Swimmers 19 Or Older, July 17-28

From July 17 to July 28, the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross will offer a 30-hour Water Safety Instructor Training Course. It was announced at the chapter house today by Miss Elizabeth Breslin, executive secretary.

Candidates must be at least 19 years of age.

Ordinarily candidates for this course are also required to hold a current senior life-saving certificate, but for this course they will be accepted if they are exceptionally skilled swimmers, according to a letter received from Donald B. Bishoff, Director of First Aid, Water Safety, and Accident Prevention for the Eastern area of the Red Cross.

At the present time only one certified Water Safety instructor is registered at the chapter house and there is great need for more instructors.

Candidates for the course will be interviewed at the chapter house Friday evening at 7:30.

Pfc. Harold J. Cleaver Jr., Confined
In Southern Italy
Hospital

Mrs. Alice Cleaver, of 355 East North street, received Wednesday morning, the medal of the Purple Heart, which was awarded to her son, Pfc. Harold J. Cleaver, Jr.

Pfc. Cleaver is 28 years of age, and was wounded somewhere in Italy, where he is now confined in an army hospital. The extent of his injuries is not known.

Tuesday evening, Mrs. Cleaver was notified by the war department that her son was injured, but she had already had the news in a letter from her son, who states that he is getting along nicely.

Pfc. Cleaver has been in the service for 23 months, and overseas for over a year, being also in the North African campaign.

Fighting the war is a family affair in the Cleaver household for her husband, Staff Sgt. Harold J. Cleaver, Sr., is at Camp Ellis, Ill., and her daughter, woman third class Bernice Cleaver, of the Waves, Washington, D. C., and other members of her family are also in the service.

TO BUY BONDS

The authorization to purchase $100,000 worth of fifth war loan bonds by the county commissioners follows the example set in the third and fourth war loans. This time the commissioners are investing money in the tax sales account, an undistributed fund of approximately $147,000.

The bonds to be purchased are the 7-8s which expire June 1, 1945. They are negotiable and if the fund was distributed before June 1945, the bonds could be liquidated. As it is, the money will draw some interest and the various taxing bodies will share in the interest along with their pro rata share of the principal.

OPEN BIDS

Bids were opened Wednesday by the county commissioners for the care of typewriters in the court house over a year's time. Two bids were received, one from the Castle Stationery company for $10 per machine for a year and one for $695 total, from C. D. Davis. The commissioners are having the number of machines counted and will consider the awards later. It is thought there are about 60 typewriters in the court house.

ONE FOR THE BOOK

This is one for the book. An agency receiving aid from the county and voluntarily asking that the allocation be cut in two. It happened, believe it or not, on Wednesday when Court Stenographer P. M. Rowland appeared before the commissioners and said the Lawrence County Historical society would not need all of the $1000 allocated for its use this year and suggested that $500 would be enough.

After recovering their joint and several breaths, the commissioners thanked Mr. Rowland and through him the society.

ONE SENTENCE

One offender appeared before Judge W. Walter Brahm on Wednesday and was sentenced. J. M. Harvan, plea to driving while intoxicated, was fined $100 and costs, 30 days in jail, to be released in three days if the fine and costs are paid.

Drive

Due to the fact that the warehouses in Pittsburgh are packed with relief clothing for Italy, the local boxes and contributions scheduled to be sent last week have been delayed and will be delivered as soon as possible, which will probably be sometime this week.

Nearly five tons of clothing has been collected here, articles numbering approximately 15,000. Over 600 families of St. Vitus church were among the contributors of clothing. Those who offered donations were King Humbert society and auxiliary, Casa Savoia society and auxiliary, Unione Calabro, Duke D'Arzu, Haney Furniture company, Alfonso Scarazzo, Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita and Antonio De Lorenzo.

Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso has been the clothing drive director in this district, and he and Fr. DeMita wish to thank the chairman, Mrs. Frances Colao, Mrs. Clara Casaccia and Mrs. Adeline Scarazzo and their assistants.

Fr. DeMita also announced the organization of a permanent sewing and knitting group to make articles to be sent overseas, for the duration.

New Light Bulbs

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—(INS)—Housewives who find electric light bulbs hard to get were enlightened a little today on the reason for their scarcity by A. S. Turner, Jr., of the Philadelphia Electric Company engineering department.

Every bomber uses 100 bulbs of various kinds; every fighter plane takes 50, each M-4 tank 27; each battleship uses 30,000, and there are 800 in a submarine, Turner pointed out. In one armored division, 60,000 bulbs are needed—the equivalent of a year's supply for a town of 25,000 population.

Turner also threw a little light on postwar housing, predicting that homes of the future will have fluorescent lights in colors suitable to the seasons—"blue, which is cool, for summer; reddish, warm tints for winter."

Ceiling On Employers Of Less Than Eight

All employers of less than eight workers shall have their male manpower allowances fixed at not more than the number of male employees who were on their payroll on June 30, 1944, according to an administrative decision made by the Area Office of the War Manpower Commission at Greensburg, Pennsylvania.

Under the new priority referral system, all employers must hire through the Employment Service. Local employers who hire more than eight male workers are still waiting for their ratings.

OCD NOTES

Notice has been received from the state council of defense that OCD could continue the military ballot canvass up to July 6, the reason being that many counties had not been able to finish on June 28. The OCD here completed the canvass within the time limit. Approximately 3200 persons were registered in the city.

How To RUIN DRESSES AND LOSE FRIENDS

IT'S tragic how some girls lose their friends and ruin their dresses because of perspiration odor and stains. And there's no excuse for it. It's easy to save dresses, it's easy to save friends.

Use Arid, the new cream deodorant that helps keep your amputis dry and removes the odor from perspiration. Arid is safe and dependable for these five reasons:

1. Arid does not irritate skin. Does not rot dresses or men's shirts.

Letters from fighting fronts and from camps in the United States have been coming into the Margaret Henry children's home, sent to Mrs. Lida J. Green, matron, by service men and women who used to live there.

"Mom" Green keeps every one of the letters and tries to answer them all. There are questions about the children at the home, about the Mother's Day celebration, the Christmas dinner, and "how does the yard look now that it's summer."

One of the letters had in it a ten shilling note from England, and another was from a lieutenant who had sent money for ice cream for the children's Christmas dinner. And one boy even reminisces about the castor oil that used to go with spankings when he mis-behaved.

Water In Cascade Park Pool Tested

City Health Superintendent Says
Water Is O.K. For Swimming
Purposes

Dr. W. A. Womer, health superintendent for the city of New Castle today reported that the water in Cascade Park pool is O. K. for swimming and up to requirements exacted by the American Public Health Association and the state. The city official was quizzed following reports that soldiers from Deshler army hospital annex were prohibited from swimming there but that children and adults from here were permitted to use the pool.

City Chemist John K. Hees examines the water regularly. At times of the park make similar tests. Examinations are made every six days it was stated.

C. C. Coulthard, manager of the park, in commenting on the condition of water, said "lots of soldiers swim in the pool" (they are not required to pay).

Tests are made regularly. The water is "blue-stoned" and chlorine is used. The water may be discolored now and then but this does not imply the water is impure. It can be clear as crystal yet impure, he said.

Parks Director Joseph D. Alexander reported he makes certain that regular tests are made and today pointed out that council had purchased a considerable amount of chlorine to be used solely at the pool.

According to Manager Coulthard, New Castle Water Company water, and water from the Big Run are used. It would be impossible to use all city water because it would require too long a time to fill the pools.

In speaking of the tests Dr. W. A. Womer said that the requirements of the army are considerably more rigorous than those of the American Public Health Association.

Kiwanians Hear Of Post War Plans

L. B. Round, Chairman Of Post War Planning Committee And Jewett Tell Of Program

COOPERATION OF EVERYONE NEEDED

New Castle Kiwanis Club members heard about the plans which are being made in Lawrence county for the days immediately following V-Day, when the war is ended, at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday, when they were addressed by L. B. Round, chairman of the Post War Planning committee of the Greater New Castle Association, and Roger Jewett, secretary-manager of the Greater New Castle Association.

Mr. Jewett, who was introduced by Tom Paden, told about several surveys which have been conducted among the industries and businesses of the county, so that a cross section of what the future has in store could be ascertained, and where the most stress would have to be placed in this post-war planning work.

It has been found, Mr. Jewett stated, that there are approximately 22,500 persons employed in the county, and that post war jobs will be available for approximately 17,000, leaving 5,500 jobs to be secured.

He also gave statistics showing how much of an increase in per capita spending there has been during the past few years, New Castle showing a greater increase than any other city in the state.

Mr. Round told about the fact that a great deal of time was spent in planning in the past to try and provide employment when New Castle was in distress during the days of the depression, and of the fact that a number of local citizens are spending lots of hours planning for the future, so that New Castle may be a bigger and better place in which to reside.

Greater prosperity cannot be secured, however, Mr. Round emphasized, unless the people of New Castle have a unanimity of purpose and work together.

He invited the members of the Kiwanis Club to attend the meeting which has been arranged for next Monday, when a speaker of national importance will be present to speak on post-war planning.

Guests of the club included Pvt. William Ramsey, son of Kiwanian Ralph Ramsey, who is stationed at Camp Gruber, Okla., and Pvt. Don Smith, of Camp Carson, Colo.

Company Uses New Picket Foiling Plan

CHICAGO, July 6.—(INS)—One Chicago firm today was trying out its own device to escape picketing by disgruntled employees. It simply was moving its equipment and stock from the site of the trouble, with the prospect that the employees soon won't have anything to picket.

The 100 CIO members picketing the plant of the United Wall Paper Factories, Inc., got on the nerves of the company officials, so in five large trucks, the stock and activities were moved to one or more of the 24 other plants they operate throughout the country.

Three-Cornered Shuttle - Flight Is Made Over Europe

LONDON, July 6.—(INS)—The first three-cornered shuttle flight ever made over Europe was completed Wednesday by American B-17 Fortresses which flew to Britain from Italy on the last leg of a mission which carried them first from England to Russia and then on to Italian fields.

The big craft took off from Britain June 21 in the first shuttle raid from those bases to the Soviet Union, blasting Berlin and other objectives en route. A few days later they proceeded to Italy, attacking objectives in Poland. On yesterday's flight, accompanied by Mustang fighters, they hit at rail targets at Bezieres near Montpellier.

Ninety-eight per cent of last year's huge farm crop was moved at some stage of the journey from farm to market by motor truck.

Jap Sub Prisoners Have Tortuous Hours

WASHINGTON, July 6.—(INS)—Three survivors of the torpedoed Netherlands merchantman, "Tjalsak," told Wednesday a story of tortuous hours before their escape from a Japanese submarine crew.

The story was released by the Netherlands embassy in Washington. When the "Tjalsak" was attacked in the Pacific, all aboard managed to enter lifeboats before the ship sank, but the Japanese submarine ordered the men aboard the raider.

The Japs bound the men together, and beat them with swords and other weapons. Then the men were dumped overboard and those who sought to untie themselves were machine-gunned.

Three kept afloat and returned to a lifeboat after the raider left, and were rescued by an American merchantman.

Parts of Iowa, Arkansas and Missouri outrank Kansas as the birthplace of tornadoes.

Convicted Officer Commits Suicide By Hanging In Hospital

Second Lieut. Swannett, Facing
Death For Killing Of Four,
Kills Himself

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—(INS)—Sentenced to hang by an army court-martial, Second Lieut. Beatrice Swannett, 31, who killed four persons in a wild shooting spree at Camp Anza last March 8, committed suicide at Letterman hospital, army authorities announced. It was understood he hanged himself.

Swannett entered the government hospital last June 1 for treatment of wounds he himself received during the shooting spree at the army post and in the southern California town of Arlington.

After a lengthy court-martial, Swannett was found guilty on May 26 of killing his sweetheart, Dorothy Douglas, 19, of Long Beach, Calif.; her friend, Louridine Livermore, 18, also of Long Beach; his commanding officer, Capt. Aubrey Serling, and Police Officer Arthur Simpson of Arlington.

Four others, including Swannett, were wounded in the wild affair.

Mary Agnes Howley First Lieutenant

Announcement has been made officially of the promotion of Second Lieutenant Mary Agnes Howley of the Army Nurses Corps, stationed at the Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C., to the rank of First Lieutenant.

First Lieut. Howley, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Howley, 26 1/2 North Mill street, this city. She has been assigned to the Walter Reed Hospital, since May 10, of this year, following her return from 27 months service in Panama.

Alleged Deserter Shot By Police

State Police Shoot Alleged Camp
Reynolds Deserter, Two Companions Escape

ERIE, Pa., July 6.—(INS)—A California youth, an alleged deserter from Camp Reynolds, was near death today in an Erie hospital with a bullet wound in the back after police investigating a series of robberies accosted him and three other suspects in North East, Pa.

The police said the wounded man, Samuel Fautett, 19, of Orange, Calif., had attempted to escape and was hit after disregarding two warning shots fired by Patrolman Louis Penman.

Two of Fautett's companions escaped at the time but one, Homer Orton, 23, of Wattsburg, was captured later. Still at large was Archie Butts, 24, of Harbor Creek, whom police said was, like Fautett, an army deserter. The fourth man, Howard Wought, 19, of North East, was arrested at the scene.

BRIEF NEWS OVER STATE

UPPER MERION—An 18-word will scrawled in pencil on the back of an envelope assigned the estate of Samuel M. McCarter of Upper Merion to an heir. The property of the late vice president and general manager of the McCarter Iron Works was evaluated at $500.

READING—After spending 47 of his 61 years of married life alone, William Naele of Reading filed a suit for divorce charging his wife with desertion. She left him in 1897.

SCRANTON—The Scranton health department was faced with a baffling problem when they discovered two families were raising chickens on their apartment house roof in violation of an ordinance forbidding them within 15 feet of a dwelling.

The owners sold the fowl in preference to building coops on stilts.

STATE COLLEGE—From all indications women will be in the majority again during the 1944-45 term at Pennsylvania state college. Women applicants total 257, while only 36 males will be numbered among the freshmen students.

BUTLER—Fumie Yamada, a full fledged Jap, was back in Honolulu today following his honorable discharge from the U. S. army's Deshon General hospital at Butler. Fumie, who enlisted Nov. 14, 1941, was injured while serving in Italy.

Tournaments Played At East Brook Camp

Ball Games And Jacks Are Run Off
Every Evening. Winners Get Three Games In Five

Campers of East Brook's second session are half way through a series of tournaments in baseball, badminton and jacks, Miss Caroline Slade, camp director, said today.

The games are run off every evening during the sports hour from seven until eight. Champions will be the winners of three out of five games.

Following the sports hour, a scavenger hunt was held on Wednesday evening with cabin three the first to return with a perfectly filled list. A hare and hounds chase is scheduled for this evening, and a treasure hunt for tomorrow. These evening games are under the direction of Miss Peggy Hogan.

Sixteen girls are planning to take to the woods for a breakfast hike tomorrow morning, with Mary Lou Mahoney in charge.

Groups are continuing with their work as during the first period. In the dramatics class, one group is working on the play readings, another on one-act plays, and another on marionettes. Music groups are learning South American songs and Negro spirituals, as well as camp songs. In sports, the girls are playing deck tennis, badminton, volleyball and jacks, and in swimming, they are working for Red Cross badges.

Cabins were named during the first evening of camp with a "World Family" as the theme. Sweden, Holland, Germany, Italy, France, South America and the American Indians are all represented.

PIGEONS YET HERE
Although traps were set on top of East Washington street buildings some time ago the "birds" apparently have shunned them and are flying as much as ever.

WAC Needs 22,000 For Hospital Work

Medical Technicians Needed Immediately For Work In Army Hospitals In Area

According to Major P. G. Gerlock, Commander of the U. S. Army Procurement Office, with headquarters at Pittsburgh, the Army is in need of 22,000 Wacs at once for hospital work.

Teachers, social workers, and college students are desired for the openings which must be filled. A Wac officer has been assigned to interview applicants in Western Pennsylvania, and will be located at the Office of Procurement, 2003 Clark Building, Pittsburgh.

Those interested will receive special training to fit them for the positions which it is desired to fill.

A detachment of technicians is serving at Dushan General Hospital, Butler, Pa.

NEW GALILEE

Lt. Mary Marsic Nurse In France

First Lt. Mary Marsic, U. S. A. N. C., is in France with the invasion forces. An anesthetist in the Army nurses corps, Lt. Marsic was formerly a nurse at the New Castle hospital.

In France, according to a letter received from her by her sister, Mrs. Anna Bayuk, of Prospect street, she is kept busy but is glad to feel that she is doing what she can for the wounded men. She has worked with some wonderful surgeons, she says.

"We get our food in boxes over here," she writes. "And I had my first bath in my helmet."

Lt. Marsic had been in England for the past year and a half before going over into France.

H. F. WHITMANS VISIT IN NEW WILMINGTON

Lieut. J. G. and Mrs. H. F. Whitman (the former Joan Thompson) and their year-old son Larry have arrived in New Wilmington for a visit with Lieut. Whitman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Whitman. At the end of his leave, Lieut. Whitman will report for duty at the navy radar school in Georgia. He has been stationed in St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Whitman will remain in New Castle for the duration where she will make her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Thompson of 133 Euclid avenue.

NORTH HILL HEDGE IS FOUND ABLAZE

Some idea of how dry it has gotten following several weeks without rain can be gained from the fact that city firemen were summoned to the property of William Strawbridge, at the corner of Albert street and Englewood avenue, at 8:05 p. m. Wednesday, to extinguish a fire in a hedge about Mr. Strawbridge's property. Several yards of hedge was burned. Chief James E. Thomas reported.

CITY TO BUY HOSE
Council met this morning in city hall and asked for bids for 800 feet of 2" and 1 1/2" inch fire hose.

American Forces Encircle La Haye

By CLARK LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WITH AMERICAN TROOPS ON THE CHERBOURG PENINSULA, July 6.—(10 a. m.)—American troops encircled the town of La Haye Du Puits today following steady gains throughout the night along the entire front.

Slow but satisfactory progress was recorded as a ring of steel was thrown around the key anchor of the German line on the western end of the Cherbourg peninsula.

The Germans attempted several counter-attacks, especially in the sector southwest of Carentan, where American troops took Culot at midnight. All these were repulsed. Enemy artillery continued relatively light.

Nazi prisoners complained of the shortage of their own artillery shells, an apparent result of allied air attacks against railways and highways behind the German lines. Several score allied fighter-bombers made a spectacular twilight swoop on German concentrations in the vicinity of St. Lo last evening. American troops cheered as formation after formation of planes roared in low from three directions in a perfectly-patterned bombing and strafing attack.

T-Sgt. F. R. Myers Missing In Action

Edenburg Liberator Bomber Gunner Reported Missing Over Poland

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Myers of R. D. 1, Edenburg, have received a telegram from the war department, Washington, D. C., stating that their son, Tech. Sgt. Floyd R. Myers, is missing in action over Poland since June 20.

Sgt. Myers was stationed in England since March, and as an engineer gunner on a Liberator bomber. He enlisted in October 1942, and is a graduate of New Wilmington high school.

Floyd was married in January, and his wife, Mrs. Margaret Myers, resides in Portland, Ore. Another son, Staff Sgt. William R. Myers, is also stationed in England with the air force, a gunner in a Flying Fortress. He flew over France the morning of the invasion. He has been awarded the air medal and oak leaf cluster. He is a graduate of Union high school. Another son, Kenneth V. Myers, stationed in Camp Rucker, Ala., with light field artillery, is a graduate of New Wilmington high school.

Anti-Fourth Term Democrats To Meet

Anti-Fourth Term Democrats Want To Nominate Own Candidate For President

CHICAGO, July 6.—(INS)—Anti-fourth term Democrats expect to call a convention of their own and name candidates for president and vice president if the regular Democratic convention re-nominates President Roosevelt. Dr. Robert L. O'Brien said today.

O'Brien, executive secretary of the American Democratic national committee, said the newly formed executive committee would meet in Chicago July 20 to make a final decision.

This will be second day of the regular national Democratic convention which is expected to name Mr. Roosevelt. O'Brien said the convention of the anti-Roosevelt Democrats probably would be held in New Orleans because party opposition to the New Deal is strongest in the south.

Harry Hopkins Returns To Desk At White House

WASHINGTON, July 6.—(INS)—Harry Hopkins, President Roosevelt's close friend and adviser, returned to his desk at the White House today in "restored health."

Hopkins underwent an operation some weeks ago at the Mayo Institute in Rochester, Minn. Previous to that he had been ill for some time and has not been in Washington for several months.

White House Secretary Stephen T. Early announced that Hopkins had completely recovered and was "back on the job."

He was accompanied back to Washington by Mrs. Hopkins. The President's number one adviser does not live at the White House any more but rents a home in Georgetown. His office, however, is in his old quarters in the executive mansion.

Gen. De Gaulle To Reach Capital At Four O'Clock

WASHINGTON, July 6.—(INS)—The White House announced today that General Charles De Gaulle will arrive in Washington by plane at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Conferences with President Roosevelt will begin shortly thereafter. Full military honors will be given the head of the French National Committee when he is met at the National Airport by the U. S. joint chiefs of staff.

TOO MANY HEADACHES, INGREDIENTS SHORT

NEW YORK.—(INS)—Supplies of acetylsalicylic acid, antipyrine, phenacetin and salicylate have become so scarce in Denmark that Nazi authorities have been forced to limit their sales to a prescription basis, according to the German-controlled Danish radio. The broadcast, heard by U. S. monitors, said that none of these products, which were used "mainly for headache powder," could be sold more than five times on each prescription.

Col. Gabreski Gets His 28th Plane To Be Leading Ace

Oil City Flier Will Stay In England
Another Month Then
Return And Wed

A U. S. EIGHTH AIR FORCE FIGHTER BASE IN BRITAIN, July 6.—(INS)—Almost another month of record-breaking flying lay in wait today for Lieut. Col. Francis Gabreski of Oil City, Pa., top-flying ace of the American air corps, who yesterday shot down his 28th German plane.

Gabreski was determined to get his 28th before leaving for the United States to marry Kay Cochran of Grand Rapids, Mich., whom he met in Hawaii three months ago.

But even though he set a new mark for American fliers in all the-ater—breaking the previous record bags of Maj. Robert S. Johnson of Lawton, Okla., and Maj. Richard Ira Bong of Poplar, Wis., Gabreski said he would stay on in the European theatre "until the first of August anyway."

Gabreski, who took a pre-medical course at the University of Notre Dame, got his 28th plane near Evreux, Normandy. He has flown more than 100 missions in the European theatre of operations.

D.N.B. Asserts New Landing Attempt By Allies Is Likely

LONDON, July 6.—(INS)—The German Agency DNB today forecast that an Allied landing might be attempted in Brittany, France, in the next few days.

The Germans explained that the sea was becoming smoother. DNB said also that pressure on the Normandy battlefield was constantly increasing. New German weapons named the "Panzer Horror" and "Panzer Flot" were said to have been particularly successful when employed in the areas south of Limors Wood which is south of St. Sauveur.

THIS STORY IS KIND OF STINKY

NEW YORK.—(INS)—Magistrate Peter A. Abeles reached a new high in rhetoric when he sentenced Harry Marrin to jail for five days and fined him $250 for violation of price regulations on onions. Said the magistrate to the defendant: "Your transactions in the onion black market smell to high heaven."

Wampum Horse Wins Five Gaited Stake

Golden Elegance Owned By H. W. Marshall Is Reserve Champion At Ohio Show

Golden Elegance, owned and ridden by H. W. Marshall of Wampum, was judged the reserve champion five-gaited horse at the first annual horse show at Ascot park, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, held on July 3 and 4.
Janice Marshall won the pony class with her Bo Peep, the pony which won first place in the small pony class at the Wampum horse show on June 23.

Dixie Twilight, owned by Fred Earnshaw of Hillsville and ridden by Mr. Marshall, was second in the junior fine harness class. Dixie, who is three years old, was being shown for the first time.

Mr. Marshall managed the Wampum Rotary club horse show which was put on for the benefit of De-shon hospital two weeks ago.

MORAL OF STORY, NEVER BE HASTY

NEW YORK.—(INS)—An irate wife received a phone call from a man who said he was calling to explain why her husband would be late for dinner. "I am Frank Sinatra," he announced. "And I am Mary, Queen of the Scots," she retorted, getting ready to hang up. "I'll prove it," said Frank Sinatra and sang "This Love of Mine" to her. The astonished wife was convinced and her husband was forgiven. (P. S. It really WAS Sinatra.)

Not until the 17th century was western medicine introduced into China.

ST. LOUIS WOMEN BECOME BUTCHERS

ST. LOUIS.—(INS)—Sixty women have invaded another "man's world"—they've become "butcherettes" in St. Louis meat departments. Many of the butcherettes are housewives; some are taking the places of husbands who have entered military service. Women, however, will not replace the men completely in the meat departments, for the union forbids them to use the big meat cutter, or cut large pieces of meat by hand. However, they are permitted to slice such meats as bologna sausage, and to wrap meat cuts. They also serve the customers and keep the counters and cases in order.

Not just one... or two... or three... But All the Recognized Essential Vitamins

A vitamin preparation that contains only one, or two or three vitamins simply cannot give you protection against all these vitamin shortage dangers: jumpy nerves, low resistance, loss of pep and energy, constant fatigue, aches and pains, poor appetite, bleeding gums and that "older than your years" feeling.

You need all the recognized essential vitamins. In "VITAMINS Plus" you get them all, combined with vital Iron and Liver Fraction (25 mg.)—not intended for treatment of pernicious anemia. That's why "VITAMINS Plus" gives you this complete vitamin health protection.

1. Prevents Vitamin Shortage Dangers (Vitamins A, B₁, B₂, or G, C, D and Nicotin)
2. Helps Correct these Dietary Deficiencies
3. Helps Prevent Nutritional Anemia

When you buy vitamins, remember that "VITAMINS Plus" gives you this complete vitamin health protection.

Need 700,000 To Harvest Crops

Need Help Of City Folks In Getting 1944 Wartime Food Crops In Barns

By ERWIN D. SIAS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 6.—War Food Administration officials disclosed today 700,000 more "city workers" will be needed to bolster the nation's farm labor front by the peak month of October to harvest the tremendous 1944 wartime food crops.

Linked with this disclosure was WFA's plan to bring 20,000 more Mexican farm workers into United States by the end of the summer. The latest group of Mexicans will be in addition to 20,000 imported during June to work in the sugar beet fields.

Hesitant To Induct

Latest WFA figures show 11,285,000 agricultural workers actively employed on farms, of which 78 per cent is "family labor"—operators and unpaid family members.

We will need approximately 12 million workers on farms to meet peak October requirements in harvesting," a WFA official stated. "That means about 700,000 city workers must be recruited."

Meanwhile, selected service officials advised WFA that the 1,637,000 men agriculturally deferred from military service as of July 1 will remain practically "untouched," thereby assuring farmers of the vast manpower pool at least until the end of the harvesting season.

Draft officials told WFA that local selective service boards are "hesitant" to induct farmworkers at this time of the year.

REPATRIATE VISITS

GROVE CITY, July 6.—The Rev. Paul R. Wilson, who was interned for 10 months by the Japs in a prison camp in China, and who was repatriated last December, returning on the "Gripsholm," is spending some time with Dr. Elizabeth F. Lewis, Craig street. His wife and children, who left the Orient in time to escape the war, are with him. He has been at Cornell university since his return.

Mexico's national military savings fund loaned over $287,000 to Mexican soldiers in a recent month.

Miss Tennessee

FIRST of the 1944 crops of Miss America candidates is Miss Marian Weller, 19, of Chattanooga who will compete for the national beauty title at Atlantic City, N. J., on Labor Day, as Miss Tennessee.

SOLDIER VOTE CANVASS ENDS

Over 450,000 Names Are Recorded By Volunteers During Three Weeks Drive

By JAMES H. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, July 6.—The first phase of Pennsylvania's liberal soldier vote plan was completed today as the state defense council ended the canvass of absentee voters' homes for proper military addresses.

Names of 450,972 service men and women have been recorded by 200,000 volunteers during the three-week drive, the council reported. Adams, Greene, Huntingdon, Lehigh and Washington counties have completed the survey.

Gov. Edward Martin and Dr. Ralph C. Hutchison will speak over a statewide radio network tonight at 8:15 o'clock on the wind-up of the survey.

The statewide canvass to ascertain the proper military addresses of service personnel and members of Allied war agencies was launched June 14 and was expected to be completed in two weeks, but county chairmen requested an additional week because in "numerous" instances canvassers were required to make several trips to homes to obtain data.

Local election board will sit at polling places from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. tomorrow to sift the information cards before sending ballots to eligible Pennsylvanians scattered throughout the world.

The state elections bureau has estimated that 500,000 secret ballots will be mailed to Pennsylvanians eligible to vote in the general election November 7.

Bureau officials would not officially disclose the percentage of ballots they expected would be returned but there were hints that the total would not be more than two-thirds of the number mailed. A large part of the returned ballots were expected to come from service men and women stationed within the United States.

Butler Man Jailed After Fatal Fight

BUTLER, Pa., July 6.—Accused of manslaughter, Edgar "Pete" Swartz has been committed to the Butler county jail, and is to be arraigned today.

He is held in connection with the death of Frank Wilson, following a fight in the Park hotel tap room. Wilson suffered a fractured skull when he fell during the fight. Charges were filed against Swartz after a coroner jury recommended a grand jury investigation into the affair.

American citizens of German descent in New York City raised more than $35,000,000 through war bond purchases up to May, 1944.

Cpl. Thomas A. Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Doyle, 1810 Wilson avenue, is on duty with an amphibious truck company at an advanced base in the South Pacific area. Since he has been overseas he has met two former friends, Joseph Crenny and Wilbur Denny. Cpl. Doyle is the holder of a citation given him at Fort Meade, Md., in recognition for his work of guarding prisoners of war.

Mrs. Wilbur A. Phillips, of 715 Harbor street, has received word from her husband, Pfc. Wilbur A. Phillips, that he has arrived in England. Pfc. Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Phillips, of 715 Harbor street, was formerly stationed at Camp Gruber, Okla. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have received a package of souvenirs from their other son, Pfc. Holland C. Phillips, who is stationed somewhere in Italy.

Mrs. Russell Ryhal has received word from her son, Sgt. H. R. Stevenson, who is convalescing in a hospital in India, that he is getting along well. He has received all back mail, including Christmas packages. Sgt. Stevenson states that the American Red Cross treated him well upon his entering the hospital by giving him good magazines, razor blades and candy. He adds, "It is a fine thing to have an organization like the American Red Cross."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Laitinen, of Taylor street, have been informed that their son, Pvt. Sam Laitinen, has been transferred to Fort Devens, Mass., from Washington, D. C.

Pfc. Joseph Smolkowicz, M. P. son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smolkowicz, of R. D. 4, stood guard one night over several German prisoners of war while enemy aircraft swooped down in an air raid in Italy. After herding his charges into a corner, he stood with rifle ready at the door. The soldier was slightly dazed when a bomb exploded in the road outside, and the concussion knocked him down. He soon took charge of the situation and dispelled all thoughts of escape from the minds of his prisoners. "I wasn't hurt," said Joe later, "and those Jerries were more surprised about the whole thing than I was."

Cpl. Dominic A. Peccardo, Army Air Forces, returning from 31 months overseas in the American theater of operations, arrived at Camp Patrick Henry June 14, prior to reaching his home at 424 Galbreath avenue, to visit his mother, Mrs. Walter Peccardo.

Huge Increase In Revenue From Income Taxes

WASHINGTON, July 6.—(INS)—Six-sevenths of the revenue increase that brought government income to an all-time peak for the fiscal year ended last week came from income taxes, analysis of the treasury's figures disclosed today.

The total increase was 21 billion, 867 million dollars, with the record revenue reaching 44 billion, 149 million.

Of the 21 billion, 867 million increase, 18 billion, 393 million came from the deferral of withheld and other income tax payments that brought the aggregate from those sources to 34 billion, 655 million dollars.

From withholding tax sources came 8 billion, 393 million. Other income taxes were larger, amounting to 26 billion, 262 million.

Expenditures likewise hit unprecedented peaks amounting, exclusive of debt retirement, to 93 billion, 744 million.

The war effort accounted for the heavy share—87 billion, 39 million, with 2 billion, 642 million of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's outlay also figuring in war production.

The net deficit for the year was 49 billion, 395 million.

The 44 billion 149 million of revenue was nearly double the 22 billion 282 million of the preceding fiscal year.

The income tax revenue of 34 billion, 655 million was more than double 1943's 16 billion 94 million.

While most of the general expenditures showed comparatively slight decreases, boosts of 801 millions for interest on the public debt, 188 million for refunds on taxes and duties and 57 million for the veterans administration brought an increase in the general expenditures of 593 million.

See Crime Wave Following War

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—(INS)—A nationwide campaign of education in criminal methods was called today to cope with an unprecedented wave of crime expected to follow in the wake of the war.

Dr. Russell C. Erb, associate dean of the Philadelphia college of osteopathy, declared that "in our armed forces there are men in whom the killing instinct has been highly developed and they satisfy their lust for blood on the battlefield legitimately, but when peace comes they will be a distinct threat to our social order."

Bible names still predominate in modern times over those from other sources.

Wartime Canning Notes

By Miss Josephine Simpson,
Home Economics Extension Representative

MOLD ON CANNED FRUIT CAN BE EASILY PREVENTED

Hand in hand with fruit canning come problems of spoilage. Home-makers frequently ask "Why does mold appear on some of my canned fruit?" Others ask, "What causes my peaches and pears to turn dark brown after they are canned?"

Mold on canned fruit indicates that the jars were not completely sealed. Mold can form only in the presence of air.

In the open kettle method of canning, presence of air may be caused by filling a number of jars at one time and allowing them to cool before covering and sealing. If canning open kettle, be sure to sterilize jars thoroughly. Air in jars also may be caused by food or seeds lodged between the lid and the jar. Be sure to wipe the edge of the jar clean before adjusting the lid.

Discoloration of fruits in the top of the jar may be caused by continued enzyme activity that may indicate underprocessing. One remedy is to increase the processing time 5 to 10 minutes making sure that the jars in the boiling water bath are covered by at least one inch of water so that food will be evenly cooked.

Discoloration also may be caused by exposing the peeled fruit to the air too long before putting it into jars. Pears may be dropped into slightly salted or plain water until ready to put into jars.

Those Hired To Replace Servicemen Not Sticking To Job, Pennsylvania Official Finds

Need for a more strenuous control over labor turnover is felt especially by the railroads, according to LeRoy Simcoe, chief clerk of the Pennsylvania Railroad, E. and A. Division.

With more than 260,000 of their men in service, the roads had on their payrolls in April, 1944, almost 500,000 more men than in April, 1939, Mr. Simcoe said. This increased force must come from a decreased labor market.

Many of those hired to replace the servicemen and to take on new jobs have not been steady in their work, often leaving soon after being hired. The new priority referral system, which went into effect on July 1, may cut down this turnover, Mr. Simcoe stated.

Seventeen army divisions of fifteen thousand men each could be made up of the railroad men who have entered military and naval forces since the United States went to war. Although they are in every branch of service, many of them are operating railroads in Alaska, North Africa, Sicily, Italy, Iran, and even India. Railroad battalions include superintendents, trainmasters, firemen, conductors, linemen, shopmen, locomotive engineers, and all of the specialists needed to keep a regular railroad going.

Neshannock Post To Hear Reports

Department Convention Activities Will Be Presented At Meeting This Evening

Reports on the recent department encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, held at Wilkes-Barre, will be given by Commander George E. Hunt, Fourth District Commander. Frank T. Sargent and Membership Chairman James A. Bell when Neshannock Post No. 313, V. F. W., meets in its post rooms this evening. Commander Hunt has asked for a report from all committeemen.

The post has taken over sponsorship of a girls chorus, composed of talented young singers of the city over 16 years of age. The group, all talented musicians and singers, have made several recent appearances at Deshon hospital and Camp Reynolds and will be available for any patriotic, religious or charitable functions in the future.

Miss Claribel Cope of 829 Lathrop street is president.

Passenger train production during 1944 will probably total between 18 and 24 million—still far short of the 30,000,000 previously estimated as necessary.

Engagement Is Not Confirmed

Report WAC Captain To Marry Col. Elliott Roosevelt, Son Of President

PORT EDWARDS, Wis., July 6.—(INS)—Mrs. Frantz Rosebush declined today to confirm the engagement of her daughter, Capt. Ruth Briggs of the Women's Army Corps, to Col. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president.

She insisted she had not authorized announcement of the engagement, although quoted in published reports as doing so. She referred her questioners to sources in London where her daughter is attached to the office of Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, chief of staff for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Ruth is a native of Providence, R.I. and lived in Port Edwards three years before enlisting in the Wacs. She was in Algiers before going to London, her mother said. She was understood to have met Col. Roosevelt in Casablanca.

Col. Roosevelt's first wife was the former Elizabeth Donner from whom he was divorced in 1933. His second wife, the former Ruth Googins, obtained a divorce last April.

There are now 27 certified airlines operating in Mexico, of which three are United States companies.

Parachute Jumper Lands In River

PITTSBURGH, July 6.—(INS)—"I hate to get wet," repeated Chile Thomas, 43, of McKeesport today not long after he had been pulled out of the Ohio river in Pittsburgh at the point.

Thus Thomas indicated the extent of his contribution to the fifth war loan drive, for the ex-army parachute instructor in a stunt to bolster war bond sales, had voluntarily leaped 2,500 feet from a plane and had deliberately guided his "chute into the river—all for the cause of war bonds.

When those ten little fingers have grown into ten big ones, you'll smile a little less wearily over the mischief they found to get into. Fingermarks on painted woodwork will come off if rubbed with a cloth dipped in kerosene.

Wolves Club To
Picnic July 16

Annual Summer Outing Will Be Held At DeCarbo's Camp Sunday, July 16

At an open meeting of the Wolves club held Wednesday evening at The Castleton, further plans were made for the annual picnic on Sunday, July 16, at DeCarbo's camp.

Program chairman, James Lombardo, is being aided by Angelo Frediani and James Caravella in the arrangements.

Following the full course dinner last evening at 6:30 o'clock, various matters were discussed by the group. The club has accepted an invitation from the G. N. C. A., to attend a joint meeting of civic affairs Monday, July 10, at noon, to hear DeLoss Walker.

President Paul Failla read a letter from the Engineering Society to assist in the paper drive on July 15. Mr. Failla appealed to the members to help raise funds for more shelters for service men.

July 18, is the next meeting date.

EDENBURG

Automobile Owners
Get Last Warning

PITTSBURGH, July 6.—(INS)—Collector of Internal Revenue Stanley Granger today gave another chance to the 7,000 Western Pennsylvania automobile owners whose cars have been discovered operating without the new $5 Federal use tax stamp on the windshield.

Granger said the offenders were notified to appear before internal revenue officials in the district and buy the required stamp. If they do not, he said they will then be punished under the act, which provides a maximum fine of $25 or 30 days in jail.

Do you know the answer to this one? For what purposes other than dishwashing should a dishcloth be used? Answer, none.

the Fifth War Loan Drive ends July 8th!

AMERICANS!

You in the factories. You in the offices. You on the farms. You in the homes.

You cannot—you must not—fail to get behind your fighting man in this supreme, heroic hour.

He knows what's ahead.

Bloody, bitter fighting... superhuman toil... hardship... pain... perhaps death.

He's facing it. He'll keep on facing it, as long as there's breath in his body and blood in his veins.

But he wants to know what's behind him.

And you have only a few days left to give him the answer.

That answer will be written in the final figures on the Fifth War Loan Drive.

For this is the crucial, the all-important Drive. Never has the need for War Bond buying been so great.

To make the Drive a success, you—and everyone else—must buy at least twice as many Bonds as you bought in the last drive.

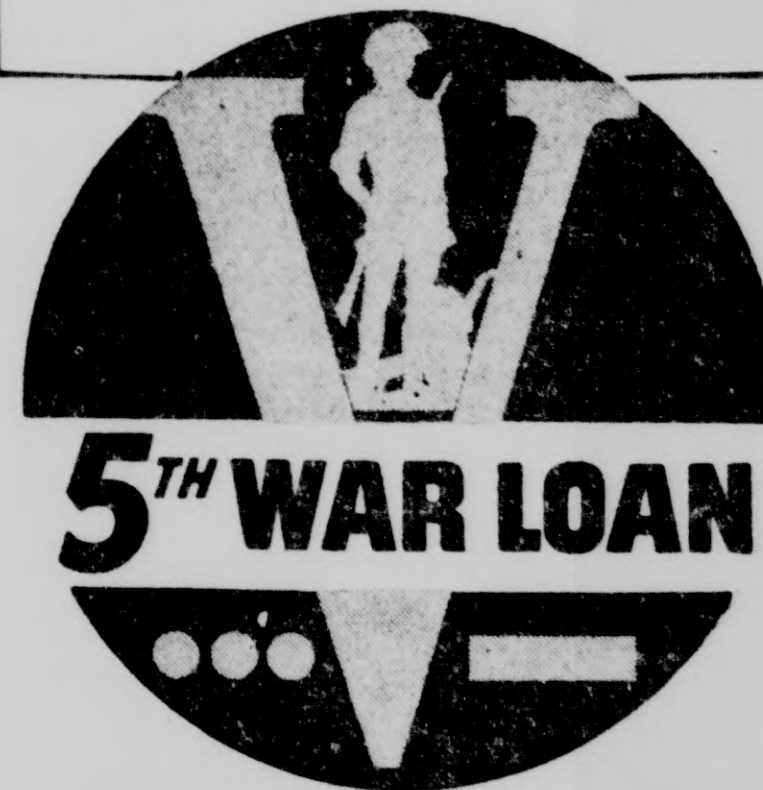

If you haven't yet bought your full share, DO IT NOW! The time is short! Make YOUR supreme effort in HIS supreme hour!

Remember—a soldier, your soldier, is waiting for his answer.

What will it be... from you?

And here are 5 MORE reasons for buying EXTRA Bonds in the 5th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the War.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

Registration Of Military Vote Set For Friday

Tomorrow, Friday, July 7, is military registration day in the commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Throughout the state, the judges and inspectors of the election boards in every precinct in the state will sit for the purpose of registering all those men and women in service who are 21 or over. This includes army, navy, marines, Red Cross, United Service Organizations or any other service affiliated with the armed forces.

Here in Lawrence county judges and inspectors have been furnished with the necessary blanks and the polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Many Registered
Due to the excellent work done by the canvassers in the past several weeks, it will be necessary for very few citizens to go to the polls to register their service men or women. Over 6,000 names were taken by the canvassers and these will be turned over to the registrars tomorrow.

If there is a service man or woman in any home who has been missed by the canvassers—and there are few of it is thought—the parents or friends of these men or women may register them.

If the canvasser has called, it is not necessary to go to the polls. All men and women in service who are of age, are entitled to vote and those who are registered will be sent military ballots without any request from them.

The number of potential voters in the armed forces from Lawrence county is large. It would be well within the realm of possibility that their votes could turn the tide of an election if they were cast with any degree of unanimity.

J. CONOVER DIES
IN CLARKS MILLS, PA.
John Conover, husband of Mrs. Isa Spear Conover, of Clarks Mills, Pa., died Wednesday at 2 a. m.

Vice Presidential Booms Mushroom

Aspirants Have Hope That Wallace May Be Eased Out Of Picture

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Democratic vice presidential booms mushroomed today as White House silence gave hope to aspirants that Vice President Henry A. Wallace might be eased out of the re-nomination picture.

A sizeable boom among western New Dealers developed for Sen. Elbert D. Thomas (D. Utah), although he proclaimed himself a backer of Wallace.

The name of Henry J. Kaiser, fabulous industrialist, was injected into the picture by Sen. Ed C. Johnson (D. Colo.), who, however, is opposed to a fourth term for President Roosevelt.

Sen. Johnson said "I still feel that Gen. George C. Marshall should be nominated for president and Henry J. Kaiser for vice president, but I don't expect anything like that to happen."

Sen. Truman (D. Mo.) chairman of the senate defense investigating committee, was reported to have the support of Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan for the vice-presidency. Truman, however, disclaimed second place ambitions.

Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme court, who has frequently been discussed as a presidential candidate, also was reported in favor among a group of New Dealers for the vice presidency. His home state is Washington. Douglas' name was advanced on the ground that he could be groomed for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1948.

The prospective list of vice presidential candidates—if Wallace is turned down—includes Sens. Barkley and Chandler, Ky.; Speaker Rayburn; Gov. Robert S. Kerr, Oklahoma, convention keynote; Gov. J. M. Broughton of North Carolina and Sen. O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

More Nazi Peace

Feelers Reported

LONDON, July 6.—(INS)—Lisbon reports, quoted today by Reuters, said there is reason to believe that Nazi peace proposals purportedly conveyed through Portuguese circles went so far as to contemplate "re-education" of Hitler.

These dispatches said the peace feelers reportedly included proposals for:

1—Immediate cessation of robot-bomb raids;

2—Progressive retirement to the 1939 frontiers;

3—Re-establishment of pre-war Poland; and

4—Mutual guarantee against eastern aggression, including the integrity of Hungary and Romania.

LEGION OF MOOSE

Pirates Slide To Third Place

Lose Two To Phillies Wednesday, Cards And Cincinnati Both Win

By JOHN CASHMAN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 6.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Phillies stand sixth in the National league standings today, but, although they haven't a ghost of a chance for the pennant, they still can influence the outcome of the flag fight.

The Phillies won some friends in Cincinnati and influenced some people in Pittsburgh yesterday when they whipped the Pirates twice, 9 to 4 and 12 to 2, to drop the Pirates from second place and replace them with the Reds.

Muller Ties Record

On the other end of the line, the Chicago Cubs slipped back into the cellar when they lost a 7 to 2 decision to the Boston Braves.

The Brooklyn Dodgers lost 4 to 1 to the Reds, marking the ninth straight Brooklyn loss, but the occasion of the day was Catcher Ray Mueller's 133rd consecutive game, which tied George Gibson's 35-year-old Pittsburgh mark.

The St. Louis Cardinals went irresistibly on with a 4 to 1 triumph over the New York Giants. The Cardinals piled up 11 hits off two New York hurlers, while George Munger held the Giants to six hits.

Browns Increase Lead

The St. Louis Browns increased their American league lead to 2½ games when they topped the Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 2. Don Black started for the A's, but was felled in the third inning when Gene Moore's single ricocheted off the hurler's leg. Black was sent to the hospital for X-rays and George Caster went on to win his own game with a ninth-inning single.

Paul Dittz began the Tigers to an 8 to 1 triumph. His teammates collected six hits for five runs off Boston's Emmett O'Neill in the first three innings.

The New York Yankees trounced the Cleveland Indians, 6 to 2, on a homer by Bud Metheny, a triple by Mike Milosevich and three doubles. The Washington Senators whipped the Chicago White Sox in a night battle, 3 to 1, as Emil (Dutch) Leonard bested Bill Dietrich in a tight duel.

Pitcher's Brother Is Reynolds M.P.

GREENVILLE, Pa., July 6.—The latest addition to the Military Police line at Camp Reynolds is Pvt. Howard F. Wyatt, brother of Whitlow Wyatt, star hurler of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Howard is a ball player in his own right having played with the Georgia Crackers where he batted .375 and played in ninety-five per cent of the games. In 1937 he turned down an offer to play with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Howard's greatest thrill in life was to see his brother turn back the New York Yankees in the 1941 World Series.

PERENNIAL PERIL

Every spring and summer several thousands of words are written about the perils of poison ivy and poison sumac, and during the same season several thousands of persons throughout the country contract the toxic perennials, and the burning, blistering, feverish itching begins all over again.

An ounce of prevention is truly worth a pound of cure in the case of the poisonous members of the thus family—thus vermic, the sumac, and thus taxicodendron, the ivy. Poison sumac's sometimes called poison oak. Learn to identify them, keep a weather eye out for them during hikes in woods and fields, and you'll avoid trouble.

The poison sumac closely resembles the harmless varieties except that it has yellow green berries rather than red ones, and its leaflets have smooth, not toothed, edges. It's more poisonous than poison ivy, but you're not so likely to encounter it since it grows in swampy regions, not on the high ground where the harmless sumacs flourish.

Easily Identified
Poison ivy is easily identified. It has three leaflets to the stem. These leaflets either have no notches at all about the edges or the leaves are coarsely "saw-toothed." The lower leaves on the small shrub are often inequilateral. A subspecies is a climbing vine rather than a shrub. They're equally poisonous. Both kinds grow in thickets, woods, hedgerows and along roadsides.

Both have greenish flowers which develop into yellowish white, smooth, shining berries. Ivy leaves are dark green and waxy. They turn red and orange in autumn. Poison ivy is often confused with the harmless woodbine or Virginia creeper, which, however has five notched leaflets.

The only resin which causes all the poison ivy trouble is contained in the leaves, stem, bark and fruit of the plant. If you believe you're in danger of contracting it apply a mixture of half grain alcohol, half water and five grams of ferric chloride to the skin and allow it to dry there. This is a good remedy even after exposure, but if it isn't available a thorough washing with yellow laundry soap or grain alcohol will help. Scratching will spread the poison. If the infection is severe see a physician.

Don't get the idea you're immune to poison ivy. You may be under certain conditions, but sooner or later if you contact it you'll become infected.

CHURCH GOLF TONIGHT
Tonight is golfing night for the New Castle church golf league at the Castle Hills course. The matches will start any time between 5:30 and 6:30 o'clock. The First Christians intend to knock the First Presbyterians out of first place this evening when the two teams tangle. Harbor hopes to climb by whipping the Epworths.

P.R.R. WINS GAME

The Pennsy R. R. softball team won an Industrial league game last evening from the Standard Steel Springs team, 8 to 5. With Culbertson on the winning pitcher and Morgan doing the catching, while for the Spring Works Justine did the flimsing and gave up but three hits, errors by the Springs team hurt. Charles "Shorty" Morgan did the catching for the Standard Steel Springs team.

Burrell Sees Great Football At State

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 6.—Now 74 and retired, A. P. "Dean" Burrell anticipates another great era of football at Penn State in the postwar period.

Burrell, who retired in 1941 after 20 years as athletic stockroom manager, still lives near the campus and helps out in emergencies. Repair of football equipment has long been his specialty.

Boss of the Track House in which Penn athletes were housed for many years, Burrell was active during the "golden era" of football and was known to generations of former Penn State athletes only as "Dean."

Pensive Hopes To Win Race Today

CHICAGO, July 6.—(INS)—Possibly slightly ashamed of himself and back to make amends for his defeat two days ago, Calumet Farm's Pensive was listed as one of today's seven starters in the $10,000 added Skokie Handicap in the Arlington program at Washington Park.

Pensive, a hot favorite in the $50,000 added Stars and Stripes Handicap Independence Day, finished a poor fourth, seven and a half lengths back of the winner, George Drum.

Baltimore Baseball Park Fire Damaged

NEW YORK, July 6.—(INS)—The International baseball league announced today that the next few scheduled home games of the Baltimore Orioles will be played out of town because of the destruction of the club's ball park by fire.

The league said the series opening tomorrow with Newark would be played in the latter city and that the Orioles would play in Jersey City, July 9, 10, 11, and 12.

Jimmy Foxx Is Now Cub Coach

CHICAGO, July 6.—(INS)—Jimmy Foxx, one-time home run hero, was back on the Chicago Cubs inactive list as a coach today.

He was taken off the player list to make room for Pitcher Japhet Lynn and keep within the 25 player limit.

Two Sentenced For Illegal Uniforms

PITTSBURGH, July 6.—(INS)—Two men were ordered jailed today for illegally wearing American army uniforms.

A one-year sentence was given Anthony Koman of Baden, who pleaded guilty to wearing his brother-in-law's uniform while the latter was home on furlough. The other man, Harold Van Dusen of Toronto, Canada, who also pleaded guilty, was sentenced to six months.

PLAYED UNDER THREE PILOTS
Earle Edwards, Lion end coach played under three different coaches as an undergraduate at Penn State. He played varsity ball under Hugo Bezdek and Bob Higgins. His freshman coach was Dutch Hermann.

LION ATHLETES BUSY
Penn State's baseball, tennis, and track teams will play abbreviated schedules this summer.

Fannins Victors Over Cardinals

Fannins defeated North Hill Cardinals at Lehigh field Wednesday evening in a postponed match from the first half of the American Legion Junior league, the final score being 13-0.

Parks slugging was a decided factor in the victory, having a homer in the 4th with one man aboard, and another in the fifth with the bases loaded, accounting for almost half the Fannin runs.

Tillie Fannin, shortstop had a double with two hits, while Bevan also had two hits. Don Young scattered hits. Laughtenslager's homer accounting for his team's only run in the second.

Tonight Fannins play Cozy Corners at Lehigh and Friday night will meet the B. and O. trappers at Lehigh field.

Moose Win First Half Golf Title

New Castle Moose Team's Belated Spurt Carries Them To The Front At Sylvan Heights

New Castle Moose, with a well balanced team, won the first half championship of the Sylvan Heights Golf league when they defeated Spaulding A. C. 4-2 in the closing match of the first half of the race at the city-owned course Wednesday evening.

Sagertowns, who had been in first place until a week ago, were held to a 3-3 tie by the International Order of Machinists, while Universal Sanitary and Manufacturing, defeating Shelby Socials of Ellwood City by a 5-1, score, finished up second.

"Tiny" Lombardo toured the course in par with a 36, with Pete Dimco coming in second for runner up honors last evening with a 37. Other low scores included 38's by Dave Ferry and Marty Segedi, while Stan Bukowski and Zuk had 39's.

At the close of the evening's play a business meeting of the league was held, which was followed by a discussion of the proposal to form an eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania golf association, but no definite action was taken on the matter last evening.

The final standing at the close of the first half was as follows:

Softball Moguls To Meet Friday

An important meeting of the managers of the Industrial softball league will be held at the "Y" at 8:30 o'clock on Friday night. It was announced today by Rocco P. Vizziano, acting for Butch Winters, physical director of the "Y."

At this meeting all managers are asked to bring with them the young men in their respective plants who have volunteered to umpire the league games for the various teams. Something has to be done about umpiring the league games and the managers will thrash this out tomorrow night. Several men it is understood, have asked to umpire games.

SCHEDULE FOR FRIDAY

Johnson Bronze vs P. R. R. Liberty street.
I. A. Machinists vs Universals, Cedar street.
Standard Steel Springs vs Shenango Pottery, Gaston park.

FIXTURE AT STATE

Bob Higgins has been head coach of football at Penn State longer than any of his nine predecessors. He assumed command in 1930.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Marse Joe McCarthy has uncovered a good pitching prospect this year in Walter John Dubiel, right-handed rookie flinger from Newark of the International league. Dubiel, off to a slow start, has shown improvement as he goes along his latest effort being a fine two-hitter against the league-leading St. Louis Browns. Dubiel, a native of Hartford, Conn., won 16 games for Newark in 1943. He began his career as a semi-pro pitcher. Uncovered by Paul Kitchell, the veteran Yank scout, Dubiel was given his first chance with Erie in 1941. He was moved up to Binghamton and then to Norfolk. With Norfolk he had an earned-run average of 1.62, the best in the Piedmont league. With Newark last year, Dubiel had an earned-run average of 2.02. A right-hander, Dubiel is 6 feet tall and weighs 190 pounds.

Clare Kelly Montgomery was the medalist with a 41, while Jim Matthews was runner-up with a 43 card. The league will play every Wednesday evening.

Zedick Pitches Another Victory

St. Joseph's Defeat St. Mary's, 1 To 0, In Pitching Battle

J. Zedick, star pitcher for the St. Joseph team of the Catholic Center, baseball league last evening hurled another fine game as St. Joe's pumiled the St. Mary's 1 to 0 at Lee avenue field in a sensational game.

Campbell on the hill for the losers also pitched a swell game allowing five hits as did Zedick, and both hurlers fanned 10 men. Caravella scored the winning run for the winners and Pandella with two hits pitched at bat.

Score by innings: R H E
St. Mary's..... 000 000 0-9 5 1

FRED PERRY

Year ago today, Detroit Tigers won 4 to 3, over Washington in a nip-and-tuck 16-inning battle. 10 years ago today, Fred Perry won the Wimbledon crown, beating Jack Crawford before 15,000, 20 years ago today, St. Louis Cards bested the Chicago Cubs, 13 to 4, with Ray Blades starring.

Norman Fisher played third base for Erwin and Kingsport of the Appalachian league last year. He wasn't a screaming success with either club and drew his release. Norman pitched his sights a little higher this past spring and signed with Atlanta of the Southern league. But he drew another pink slip after a brief stay there. So he returned to the Appalachian stamping ground and started out anew this time as a pitcher. Just the other night he uncorked the league's best game of the season with an 11 to 0 shutout over Bristol that was just a shade short of a no-hitter. Two were out in the final round when a batter blasted a double over third base for the only hit off Fisher. Fisher is hotter on the mound than he was on the hot corner.

The humble often rise to smight the mighty and members of the Lockport Cubs of the Pony league are well aware of it. The Cubs, leading the league were scheduled to play the cellar-dwelling Olean Oilers the other night and it looked like some soft pickings. But Lockport had to tally four runs in the ninth to knot the count at 4-4. From then on, there was a long string of zeros until the eighteenth, when the Cubs tallied a run and thought sure they had it. But the cellar inhabitants came right back and tied it up. After Lockport went scoreless in the nineteenth, Olean put over a run and took the decision, 6 to 5. The league leaders played two ball games trying to win one from the last placers and then lost it.

Infielder George Kell, now of the Philadelphia A's, will be the first player in the history of the annual Louisville Slugger award to receive the trophy in a major league park. It will be presented in Shibe park on July 9 between games of a double-header between the A's and White Sox. The trophy, a full-size sterling silver bat, is given annually to the minor league player with the highest batting average for the season. Kell, playing with Lancaster of the Interstate league, topped the field with 396 last season. Many Lancaster fans are going over to Philly to help honor their former favorite, and Connie Mack of the A's has been asked to present the trophy to his young protégé. The award was first offered in 1934, but the presentation, heretofore, always has been in a minor league park. Kell is the first to hit the big show in time to receive it.

Mercer Council To Buy Water Company

MEFCER, Pa., July 6.—Mercer borough council, took definite steps to form a municipal authority to purchase the Mercer Water company, following a visit of a local committee to Harrisburg, where the reports of the company for the past several years were investigated.

An application was unanimously approved to be presented to the State Public Utility Commission for a certificate of public convenience extending the commission's approval of the purchase of the water lines, rights-of-way, pump station, storage tanks, franchise and all other assets, equipment and supplies for the furnishing and supplying of water to the borough of Mercer, and for the purpose of beginning to exercise the right to operate a municipal water works.

Six-Team Golf League Gets Under Way At Castle Hills Course Wednesday

Aluminum Company of America foremen had a get-together last evening at the Castle Hills golf course and organized a six-team league for the balance of the summer months. The first matches were played last night and the league will be known as the Alcoa Foremen's Golf league. There are four men on each team.

The Non-Fliers captained by H. J. Morrison, plant superintendent, took over first place at the end of the first night's play with three points, defeating the Pre-Herts who could get but one point. Other results were Flat Top 2, O. K. Lab 2, Flash 2½, Off-Match 1½.

Clare Kelly Montgomery was the medalist with a 41, while Jim Matthews was runner-up with a 43 card. The league will play every Wednesday evening.

STOCK MARKET
FAIRLY ACTIVEProfit-Taking Appears In Market
After Active Opening, Off
Fractions

NEW YORK, July 6.—(INS)—Profit taking appeared in the stock market today after a fairly active opening. Steels, motors, rails and specialties slackened their pace in early dealings and eased fractions to more than a point, but recovered some later.

Volume also contracted from yesterday but early dealings were at a two million share rate.

U. S. Steel opened up for a modest gain but slipped a large fraction only to firm up later. Bethlehem gave up more than a point and other stocks in this division also eased.

Phillips Petroleum was a feature in the oils with a rise of more than a point. Sinclair was fairly active along with Standard Oil of N. J., around last night's close.

Motors were quiet and dull. Chrysler, General Motors and Willys-Overland were off fractionally. Coppers however tended to strengthen. Anaconda made a new high and Kennecott and International Nickel became active but without much change in price.

Rails followed the general list although Southern Pacific went against the trend gaining fractionally. Utilities did little although United Corp. was turned over on fairly large volume around last night's close.

Montgomery Ward strengthened. Investment stocks were irregular. American Telephone was down fractionally along with Westinghouse Electric. Dow Chemical made an international telephone most active issues in the communications, had a fairly large turnover but not much change in price.

Curb stocks were quiet and irregular. Rail bonds were active.

TOY DEPARTMENT
FEATURE MISSED
NEW YORK.—(INS)—Shoppers at Macy's department store would be astonished, it permitted to recast, props and all. Outraged shouts from the G. I.'s finally brought it back.

In defense of a soldier jailed at Southern England, for handbag snatching it was said "The trouble was the strength of the beer. He had returned from North Africa, where the beer, it is said, has no hops."

HAVE YOU A TRUE PICTURE OF YOUR ELECTRIC BILL?

MANY folks don't. They're as far from the real facts as this photo in an amusement park mirror!

Proof? In a nation-wide survey, 42% of the people sharply overestimated the amount of their last electric bill. 59% didn't realize that rates had been reduced in the last fifteen years — and 95% didn't realize how much!

Actually, the average American family gets about twice as much electricity today as it did fifteen years ago for the same money.

"For the same money." That's the clue. You don't realize that rates are down, because your bill may be as much as it was fifteen years ago—or perhaps even more. But you have more electric appliances

now. You're using more electricity—and you get about twice as much for what you pay.

Keeping electric production up and electric prices down is not easy in wartime — when other costs and taxes are soaring. But your electric company has done it — by careful planning, hard work and sound business management.

CAMPAIGN PLANS KEPT IN DARK

By LEO W. O'BRIEN
ALBANY, N. Y., July 6.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and his advisers, it was indicated today, will hold their presidential campaign plans in abeyance until they learn who and what they have to beat in November.

Although most of the Republican leaders are convinced that President Roosevelt will be the New York governor's opponent in the coming campaign, there are a few who believe it possible that the president, in a dramatic eleventh hour gesture, will refuse renomination.

Intensive Campaign
Despite that minority belief, however, Herbert Brownell, Jr., Republican national chairman, is going ahead with plans for an intensive campaign, none of the details of which will be announced until after the Democratic national convention, which will get under way July 19 at Chicago.

The Republicans also are holding their fire until they have an opportunity to study the Democratic platform and until they learn whether Vice President Wallace is to be nominated. If the latter again is named as the president's running mate, he will be a target for numerous Republican attacks during the campaign.

Gov. Dewey was back at his Capitol desk Wednesday after a quiet observance of the Fourth of July, which he spent at the executive mansion.

Going To Farm

Gov. Dewey will leave Albany Friday afternoon for his farm near Pawling, where he will remain over the weekend. Although a large group of newspapermen and photographers will follow him there, the governor intends to see few visitors at Pawling, devoting his time there mainly to speech writing, studying and an occasional round of golf with his neighbors on Quaker Hill.

A decision will be made in a week or two as to whether the Republican candidate will attend a suggested policy conference of the 24 Republican governors. Gov. Dewey will not make his decision until he talks with his running mate, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, who may visit Albany this month.

Girl Scout Troop At Camp For Week

Girl Scouts of Troop 27, the only senior service troop in the city, are camping at a cottage near East Brook station for a week.

Under the leadership of Helene Edgar, assisted by Jean Watkins and Nancy McKee, the girls who are camping are Patsy Stitzinger, Marylou Edgar, Nancy Hoffman, Jackie James, Shirley Urban, Elaine English, Evelyn Murphy, Vivian Allen, Gloria Hunt, and Pauline Curtis.

Besides the week of camp, the girls are planning to spend weekends throughout the summer at the cottage.

OIL

Oil is a very useful and necessary article. If it were not for our oil machinery could not be used.

There are many different kinds of oil. It is obtained from olives, from cotton seed and various other plants. It is also derived from animals.

Mineral oil is pumped out of the earth in large amounts. This kind of oil is used for lubricating machinery.

Mineral oil is used quite extensively as a medicine.

A word of caution might be needed. Some of the vitamins will dissolve in mineral oil.

Many persons are very careful to eat foods rich in vitamins. They even take vitamin pills.

Then they take mineral oil and wash these vitamins out of their bodies.

There is good reason to think that this is not a very sensible procedure.

"Who put the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder?" Never mind that now, but before putting such garments into the washer be sure to remove buckles that may cut fabric or get into rollers of the wringer.

Oak Street School Named As County Tin Can Champion

Oak street school today was named the county tin can salvage champion by the salvage committee of Lawrence county Office of Civilian Defense, Chairman Ross D. Rosenberger announced. During the past school year Oak street collected 147,414 tin cans, an average of 343.6 cans per pupil.

As winner of this contest, Oak street school will receive permanent possession of the Pennsylvania tin can salvage flag, which has been contested for each month, and a citation from the advisory committee of the State Council of Defense, which, in cooperation with the State Department of Public Instruction sponsored the competition.

As a result of the month by month contest to determine which school in each county collected the greatest number of prepared tin cans per enrolled pupil, the state salvage committee reported the collection of 37,092,340 cans equivalent to 4121 tons, or enough to fill 275 gondola freight cars.

The state championship was won by the 18-pupil Broughton school, Delmar township, Tioga county, of which Jesse Robertson is the teacher. The pupils collected 122,937 cans, an average of 6,829.8 cans per pupil. To this school will be awarded a plaque with appropriate ceremonies at the beginning of the new school year.

Girl Scouts Ready For Camp Opening

Girl Scout day camp, open to all scouts in the city from the seven-year-old Brownies to the senior scouts, opens next Monday, July 10, Mrs. Marjorie Miller, scout executive, announces.

Milk will be provided for all the scouts, but they are asked to bring their own lunches, along with their drinking cups, bathing suits and towels, pencils and notebooks, and a small blanket.

Scout knives and cameras are not requested because of wartime difficulties in getting them, but they are welcome additions, Mrs. Miller said.
